Parking enforcement accelerates for Bellows Falls village

BY JOEL SLUTSKY
The Shopper

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - A new full-time Bellows Falls police officer has been hired with a primary function to handle parking enforcement. According to Municipal Manager Chip Stearns, the officer, Josh Paulette, was hired on Aug. 29 and will work Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., 40 hours a week. Stearns said that enforcement would include all parking in the village of Bellows Falls, both inside and outside the business area. Stearns reported that officer wrote out seven parking tickets on his first day, and 20 on the following day, and even a Village Board member was not immune to this newly-aggressive stance. He didn't say who was cited. Stearns stressed that the two-hour parking areas downtown as well as the 15 minute spots, which include the post office and in front of schools, will be especially monitored. The officer's salary, which wasn't revealed, will be drawn from the existing municipal budget. "Parking has been talked about ever since I've been around; people have complained about it in public meeting and are demanding it,"

Stearns said. "The (Village) Trustees and (Rockingham) Selectboard have been in unison concerning the need to improve parking reinforcement." He emphasized that Paulette is a certified police officer in New Hampshire, and is a certified parking enforcement officer in Vermont. Currently the officer is not certified in police duties, as those certifications are not transferable between New Hampshire and Vermont. Paulette will be pursuing additional certifications in Vermont, Stearns said. Stearns noted that handicapped parking areas are a towable zone, and the state fine for towing is $250. Lastly, Stearns stated that since Paulette does not have police authority, bringing a ticket to him for dismissal would not be possible. However, if the fine is a particularly large amount, it is possible the payment could be made over a period of time. As all new jobs are a learning experience, Stearns said that his own vehicle parked in the municipal manager's parking spot was marked with chalked on the tire and ground. The procedure is if the officer comes back in two hours and the mark is still there, a ticket is given. Since Stearns is allowed to park in the municipal manager's spot, it was necessary to inform Paulette of this.

Joint board meeting focuses on manager evaluation form

BY JOEL SLUTSKY
The Shopper

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - The creation of a new way to evaluate the municipal manager dominated discussion at a joint meeting of the Rockingham Town Selectboard and Bellows Falls Village Board. Village Trustee Chair Michael Mickle said that the current evaluation form has no room for comments on each item, requiring all comments to be made at the bottom of the page. Selectboard member Josh Hearne said they were too may repetitive questions on the form. Municipal Manager Chip Stearns suggested that a committee be formed of two members of the Selectboard and two members of the village trustees to review the evaluation forms provided and come up with a new form.

Trustee Stefan Golec made a motion to appoint Peter Golec and Joshua Hearne from the Selectboard and Colin James and Steve Adams from the Village Trustees as the committee to review the criteria for evaluating the manager, and develop an appropriate form. The board then discussed the possibility of adding a fifth member to the committee. An amended motion to allow the committee to add a fifth member at its discretion was passed, and a public meeting will be held by the committee at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 9. In other business, Bellows Falls Downtown Development Alliance Executive Director Mary Helen Hawthorne said there is a completed annual Report and work plan 2016-2017 for the organization which included several changes and additions in board membership, as well as work done to reorganize and improve the efficiency of the office. Bellows Falls Downtown Development Alliance is working in concert with the town to complete the downtown designation renewal. The bid for landscape maintenance was awarded to E. Clark Landscaping, and the Village Trustees approved a motion to have the Hetty Green Park mowed at a cost of $1,610 a year. The Selectboard approved a three-year landscaping contract from January 2017 to December 2019 for town-owned parks, which include Centennial Park, the Recreation Center, Waypoint Center and the Wells Street Playground. The cost will be $7,605 per year. Stearns reported that E. Clark Landscaping submitted the only bid received for a cemetery maintenance contract. Clark requested that this contract award be tabled until the Sept. 20 Selectboard meeting. Vermont Economic and Development Authority Form No 4A for the Chroma Technology Expansion Project was approved by the Selectboard. Stearns noted that the construction of Bridge Street Bridge will be starting soon, and will take eight to ten weeks. Stearns also said that people parking at the post office will not be able to make a U-turn just before the bridge any more, and will most likely be routed via Island Street. Selectboard member Ann DiBernardo asked if the TLR mill lease with the Historical Society was signed yet, and Stearns stated that this has been in the hands of the attorney. Stearns also noted that he is waiting on the lease for the Green Lantern solar array in the gravel pit, and an unspecified 38 Green St. property issue. Trustee Colin James said that the recent outpouring of support for the family of firefighter Justin Beebe was incredible, and he said he is proud to live in the community. A local native, Beebe was killed while fighting a wildfire out West.

BF defeats Springfield in football opener

BY BILL MURPHY

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - The Bellows Falls Terriers tallied four touchdowns in the game's first fourteen minutes and controlled play throughout the first half, on their way to a 42-6 victory over arch-rival Springfield, in what is being advertised for about the third time, as the 100th game between these two avid competitors. Most everyone expected a one sided game and that was what transpired and it was clear with 6:03 run off the clock and the scoreboard reading 14-0 already, that Springfield had little chance of competing on this day. For the hosts, it was the seventh straight victory in the series that originated around the turn of the century. Bob Lockerby's Purple and White took the opening kick-off and had the games first touchdown in just over a minute of action. A penalty on the first play following the kick-off, pushed the

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - The defending champion Bellows Falls Field Hockey team dominated play in their Friday season opener from the start. The Division III Vermont state titleholders took the ball to Division I Brattleboro and took shot after shot. The Colonels defense was outstanding. Either the Bratt goalie or one of their defenders kept turning the ball away. Finally Terrier Molly Kelly found a way to push one past them and BF led 1-0 at halftime, on their way to a 4-0 victory. "Their goalie did a very good job," BF Coach Bethany Coursen said at games end. She also told the media gathering, "I could tell my girls were frustrated. They were playing frantic field hockey," concerning all the turned away shots, and Coursen

Tiny House Festival

BY BRANDY TODT

The Shopper

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Recently Downtown Brattleboro hosted its first Tiny House Festival, which drew substantial interest.

Tiny houses have begun to gain momentum in Vermont, and the festival, for its first year, exceeded expectations for the amount of people that came to view and learn about tiny house living.

Jason and Blair, who did not give last names, owners of a 1954 Ford Wayne bus that they converted into a pull-behind trailer, have travelled to 25 states and spent many nights on top of their star-gazing deck. They found the bus in a salvage yard without an engine and within two months they couple had moved out of their 2500 square-foot loft and into 100 square-foot mobile home.

Besides the star-gazing deck with fold-up ladder, the wood inside is reclaimed from building sites and from trees damaged in the 2014 Colorado forest fire, and the rock was sourced from Colorado river beds. The bus is heated by a pot belly stove from the 1800s and keeps the space heated to a warm 85 degrees.

In limited space, it is important every inch is used practically, the two said. Their dining table during the day later converts into a queen-sized bed.

The couple has plans to do a revamp this year, and have moved into a 400 square-foot tiny house in order to begin the renovations.

To anyone thinking of building a tiny house, Jason's one tip was: "When building, don't make things permanent, but adjustable."

Their adventure and the renovation progress on Wayne can be followed on an Instagram account: @tinybusbigadventure.

Among the six tiny houses available for viewing, the smallest was the 97 square-foot Optimal Traveling Independent Space, aka OTIS. The house was designed and constructed by Green Mountain College students.

The concept was derived from survey responses that wanted an affordable and mobile place to live. The tear-drop design was inspired by the turtle's shell, giving the house good aerodynamics when being pulled on the road, and the unique windows were inspired by dragonfly wings.

The cost to build it was $3,500 and plenty of volunteer hours. OTIS has a bed, an extra small stove for heating and cooking, and a composting toilet.

The college plans to create an OTIS 2.0 that has a shower, better air circulation and camper jacks so that the trailer can be removed and utilized.

Also at the festival were vendors giving information on septic systems, canvas rugs, small house foundations, and electric bicycles.

Vbike Solutions, specializing in battery-powered cargo bicycles, had a goal to get more Vermonters outside, but the hills and distance to travel to work presented a challenge. Their answer was to add a lithium-ion battery to a bike designed to carry cargo or children.

The power of the battery can last anywhere between 25 to 40 miles depending on whether the rider carries cargo. The battery reaches full charge in 5 hours.

Currently there are 20 cargo bikes in use in Brattleboro, with a plan to increase to 60 bikes next year.

There is state legislation being drafted for a set maximum speed of 28 mph, with an electric motor limit of 1,000 watts.

To learn more about this organization and their "mountain bike on steroids" visit www.vbikesolutions.org

The Tiny House Festival had plenty of interest, and even though it was free to view the houses, people said it was worth it to pay for a ticket to be able to listen to the educational talks.

Many said they will be looking forward to the Tiny House Festival's second year.

Winter weather outlook 2016-17

BY JOEL SLUTSKY

The Shopper

REGION - Last year, about this time, I bought a new snow blower with thoughts of the previous snowy winter a motivating force in the purchase.

Here we are with the fall season upon us, and that machine is, well, brand new. I haven't even read the instructions yet. While purchasing the machine, I jokingly asked the dealer if I could get my money back if it didn't snow.

The winter season of 2015-16 was a season when winter sports, jobs, and sales took a hit. I'm sure most of us would think of last year's virtually snowless winter as an aberration, so I thought it prudent to see what the weather experts have to say.

Tom Niziol, winter weather expert at the Weather Channel, said, "There are signs that we are going to be looking at a winter that will be much different from the abnormally mild and, for the most part, less snowy winter we had last year in the Northeast. There are a number of reasons why, and it has to do with some key players in the atmosphere and oceans."

"One of the biggest players will be the change from a very strong El Nino event (warming of the tropical waters in the eastern Pacific Ocean) last winter to what looks like a neutral to weak La Nina (cooling of the tropical waters in the eastern Pacific) event this winter."

Niziol did have a caveat to his long range forecast, "At the outset I want to state that I am no fan of seasonal forecasts, mainly because there is so much we do not yet know about the complete interaction of the atmosphere and exactly which players drive the patterns in different years.

"Regardless of the pattern, even mild winters have produced major snow and ice storms in the Northeast."

"Therefore, as a native of Buffalo, N.Y., and a forecaster for Northeastern U.S. winters for most of my career, I would suggest that nobody drops their guard and certainly prepares for a more rugged winter than we experienced last year. Gas up the snow blower and have the shovel handy."

"Let's end on a positive note, all of you outdoor winter enthusiasts can also get those skis out and hope for a banner year for snowfall."

AccuWeather expert long-range forecaster Paul Pastelok said, "Snowfall is expected to be around normal. La Niña could lead to some big East coast systems during the second half of the season. Areas like southern New York state and northeastern Pennsylvania that missed out on snow last year, could see higher than normal totals this winter."

According to a release by the Old Farmer's Almanac, founded in 1792 and located in Dublin, New Hampshire, winter will be colder in much of the eastern two-thirds of the nation. Snowfall will be above normal from southern New England and western New York southward through the Appalachians, but not in northern New England.

The almanac claims to have 80 percent accuracy in their forecasts, which are determined through the use of three scientific disciplines: solar science - the study of sunspots and other solar activity; climatology - the study of prevailing weather patterns; and meteorology - the study of the atmosphere.

So it seems that reading my snow thrower directions and being ready to deal with the vagaries of winter in New England seems a prudent course to take.

Unity Homes green home open house

WALPOLE, N.H. - Unity Homes will be hosting an open house on Saturday, Sept. 10 from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Experience what it's like to spend some time in a high-performance, energy-efficient, comfortable, healthy home as you tour Unity Home's contemporary style 3 bedroom, 2 bath model show home, at 101 Wentworth Rd., Walpole.

Originally built to be the feature attraction of the 2015 GreenBuild Trade Show in Washington D.C., the home was erected, completely finished and fully furnished inside the Washington Convention Center in less than three days. After hosting over 1200 visitors during the show, the house was disassembled, trucked back to Walpole, and reassembled on a permanent foundation.

The benefits of a Unity Home are largely the result of Unity's unique construction system. Unity builds homes in which comfort can easily be maintained, summer or winter, with a minimal amount of energy. In fact, with the addition of a modest solar array, Unity's LEED-certifiable show home will produce as much energy as it consumes. Indoor air quality is maintained through airtight construction, and a ventilation system that delivers a constant supply of fresh air throughout the home. The materials that make up the home are carefully considered, with sustainability, health and durability given a high priority. The LED lights are flexible and efficient, and an innovative power management system provides real-time feedback about energy usage.

Visitors to Unity's show home often comment on how peaceful and quiet the home feels, thanks to the thick walls filled with dense insulation, and the triple-glazed windows. The open floor plan, high ceilings and broad expanse of windows create an overall impression that is bright, airy and spacious.

Please join us for a tour of the home, and an opportunity to talk with Unity team members about the building process and the advantages of living in a comfortable, healthy Unity Home!

Bellows Falls Women's Club meeting

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - The Bellows Falls Woman's Club's opening meeting of the club year will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 13, at the United Church on School St., beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The club's Executive Board met over the summer and put together a line up of meeting programs, committees, fund raising ideas, and a proposed budget. Upon payment of annual dues, members will receive the program booklet. During the business meeting, the budget will be discussed and voted on.

Archer Mayor of Newfane will present the meeting program; he will speak about what has inspired him to become a medical examiner, police officer, and renowned author of mysteries.

Fund raising plans include holding a yard sale on Sept. 24 at the Masonic Temple on Westminster St.; details will be forthcoming. Contact Dianne Potter at 802-376-3211 or Betty Haggerty 802-463-4159 for information or to make a donation.

The club presented its high school scholarship to Emily Stoddard of Westminster, who is pursuing a career in nursing.

The club meets monthly on the second Tuesday at the United Church. Women interested in joining the club and helping with its projects may contact Barbara Comtois at 802-344-0025.

The Bellows Falls Woman's Club is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs whose signature project is domestic violence awareness and prevention.

Landmark College awarded grant for STEM —

PUTNEY, Vt. - The National Science Foundation awarded Landmark College $650,000 over five years for "Access to Innovative Education: Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math Opportunities for Students with Learning Disabilities." The program launches this September with five students, each of whom will receive up to $10,000 in scholarship support.

The purpose of the grant is to remove financial barriers to STEM education for qualifying students. In addition, the grant will provide an array of supports geared for student success.

JAKE'S

over the past few years. "This is an ongoing evolution as we try to figure out the right mix of products for our market," James further explains.

Jake's Quechee Market and Café prides itself on serving local products from fresh produce to syrups and artisan cheese, allowing for the opportunity to work with small local producers right in their backyard. James lists the importance of working with these small local businesses as, "One-it allows us to get the freshest products possible, two- it feels really good to know exactly where items came from, and three- it helps support and strengthen our local economy." James explains it best as, "for me, partnering with people that wake up early, work hard, and love what they do has been one of the most rewarding aspects of running this business."

As an innovative retailer, Jake's Market does not promote or advertise tobacco products at any of their locations with the primary focus at the Quechee location placed on food. With 88 percent of adult smokers beginning to smoke by the age of 18, every day in the United States, more than 3,000 youth under the age of 18 smoke their first cigarette - and over 400 Vermont youth become daily smokers every year. Youth exposure to tobacco marketing is directly correlated to youth tobacco use, with an estimated one-third of teenage smoking experimentation resulting from tobacco advertising.

Taking on the challenge of tobacco advertising is the CounterBalance campaign, which launched in October 2014 by the Vermont Department of Health to educate parents and raise awareness about how the tobacco industry targets youth with advertising in the retail environment, while helping to prevent the next generation of tobacco users. CounterBalance provides Vermonters with facts, tips, downloadable information to share, as well as opportunities to help spread the word to help prevent youth tobacco use. For more information, visit <http://counterbalancevt.com/>.

Jake's Quechee Market and Café also gives back to the community through its Change for a Cause program where throughout the year they partner with a non-profit to raise money. Each time a customer brings in a reusable grocery bag, Jake's donates 10 cents to the cause (customers also donate spare change). Jake's then tallies up the donations and matches the total amount, doubling the impact. James describes his admiration for Jake's by, "I've loved the experience of launching and running this business, primarily because of the people. We've got a great staff and an appreciative customer base.

It has been incredibly rewarding to be embraced by the community." He lists one of his favorite things about the business as, "seeing our customers bump into friends or strike up a conversation with our staff."

This Community Champion award, given by MAPP, in partnership with Health Connections of the Upper Valley, recognizes community champions throughout Windsor County for actions that contribute to helping communities become healthier places for all to live.

In 2014, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation proposed a vision for America where we all strive to build a national Culture of Health - a culture that enables all to lead healthier lives now and for generations to come. Jake's Market and Café is being recognized as a community partner not traditionally associated with Health or Health services but taking collaborative action toward building this culture.

If you would like to nominate an individual or organization making a positive impact or would like more information on establishing a tobacco or alcohol-free event, contact MAPP at cho@mahhc.org or 802-674-2900 ext. 23 or HCUV at director@hcuvt.org.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. - Springfield Area Parent Child Center is pleased to announce a new program, "Cooking Matters." The six-week hands-on cooking course and interactive grocery store tours will be offered free of charge at SAPCC with classes beginning in November.

This is a community partnership led by Executive Chef Michael Ehlenfeldt of The Inn at Weathersfield; Lara Peck and Sooyoung Uhm, both registered dietitians with Springfield Medical Systems. Black River Produce is also on board to donate fresh ingredients for the cooking curriculum supplies.

Chef Michael was one of the first instructors to bring this program to the Boston area. "Cooking Matters" serves families across the country through hands-on, and mobile, online educational tools. Participants will learn to shop smarter, use nutrition information to make healthier choices, and cook delicious affordable meals.

The program was developed with five major guiding principles as follows: The negative health and economic effects of hunger and poor diet can be avoided if families know how to shop for and prepare healthy, low-cost meals; Chefs are valued instructors because of their expertise in food preparation and budgeting as well as their creativity and energy; Food is to be enjoyed. Those living on a low income deserve to enjoy their food as well - and need to know how to create food that is delicious, satisfying and healthy; Cooking and eating meals as a family is an important social activity; and volunteering, or sharing our strengths is a way to create community wealth.

The Inn at Weathersfield's owners Marilee and Richard Spanjian continued their community support by hosting the Inn's Annual Farm Dinner on Aug. 20 and showcasing three local farms: Heminway, Ephraim Mountain, and Chickering farms. The Silent Auction began during cocktail hour in the Inn's vegetable garden where guests enjoyed music by Springfield Stringers. Later, the party moved to the back lawn where Chef Michael Ehlenfeldt prepared a five course dinner set at long farm tables. A second band, "Exit 9" out of Hartland, kept the party going with their smoky classic blues tunes and the bids climbed to raise over $3,600 in donations for SAPCC.

"We couldn't have done this without the support of the community and our loyal guests who both donated and attended the dinner. We're honored to give back and support the community," Marilee said.

"Community Collaboration is critical to SAPCC, as we continue to provide wrap around services to young children and families as we've done for nearly 25 years in North Windham and South Windsor counties," says executive director Jill Rapanotti.

"As Federal and State funding slowly shrinks due to budget cuts, we look more and more to find ways to raise the funds needed to continue to meet the goals of our mission statement: Strong Communities, One Family at a Time. In 2015 we served over 3500 children and families in our service area through Parent Education, Early Childhood Development, Early Intervention, Home Visits, Child Care Referral and Subsidy assistance, Play Groups and Parent Support Groups."

If interested in supporting SAPCC or attending the "Cooking Matters" classes, contact Jill Rapanotti, Executive Director or Jan Zona, Administrative/PR Manager at 802-996-5242, online at www.sapcc-vt.org or on Facebook.

Gordon's road trip

Here's another Gordon Gates story. It is part of a very long story he wrote about travelling cross-country with his high school teacher. The trip took place in the summer of 1939 and cost $55.

With Gordon and his teacher, Lloyd Earle, were Vinnie Crocker, George Holden, and Jake and Paul Howe. Lloyd bought a brand new Studebaker Champion for the trip. I wish I had room to write the entire story, as it is full of incidents like the one below.

"All the people we met were very good, friendly and very helpful. Every where we stoped people seemed to be interested in what we were doing + what a nice thing it was for us to make a trip like we were. But I think the people we met in Kansas beat them all.

I dont remember of us having only one rainy day all the time we were gone. And we only set the tent up once. That was in Yellow Stone.

When we came into Kansas it was raining hard. Loyd said I dont know where weel sleep tonight its to wet to set up the tent + if you step off the road you sink in the red mud about 1".

We finely saw a small white school house right near the road. Loyd stoped + looked it over. We could sleep on that porch if we could find out if it was O.K. There was a farm house across the road, the only house in sight. So we drove over there. Loyd went to the door + a lahey came out + they talked for a while. Then a man came and they talked some more. When he came back to the car he was all smiles. We'v got to waite a while but we can use the hole school for the night.

After a while another car drove up and a felow got out + went + unlocked the door. Soon two wimming apeared + talked to Loyd quite a while. They were trying to pursuade him something and he was trying to back out. We boys were talking to the 2 men and they were asking us all kind of questions abot or trip and VT.

Finely Loyd told us to go in + use the two rest rooms and slick up a bit + we were going to eat later. Then every one took off in a hurry. Loyd told us after you get cleaned up a bit just set down + we'll play school, but please be on your good behavior we are going to be treated to supper.

In about a hour some cars started coming 4 or 5 of them + woming brought in baskets of food. There was a little of everything and a lot of sandwiches and a lot of fruits. And one of the men brought in a big monster pot of coffee. Everyone had coffee. After we ate like hogs all we could hold they all stayed and talked for a while.

We spread out the tent and all our blankets and laid down to sleep but that floor was some hard. A lot harder than the ground we'd slept on a couple of nights. I think the next morning everyone had moved up into one of the seats to sleep during the night.

Breakfast was served next morning. Bacon, eggs and a big pan of fried potato + coffee. They all stayed until we were ready to leave. They wished us well on our trip. We thanked them and left.

Loyd was a pretty smart fellow. He took the name off the mail box at the farm when we left + we sent them cards from a lot of places we visited on our trip. After we got home he wrount them a big thank you letter + we all signed it."

The Alzheimer's Association and Edward Jones partner to change the course of Alzheimer's patients

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. - The Alzheimer's Association and financial services-firm Edward Jones recently entered into an historic partnership, whereby Edward Jones has committed $4.7 million over two years to support the mission of the Alzheimer's Association, according to Gerry, a financial advisor in Springfield, Vt.

Funding through the partnership will enhance the Association's care and support programs, including the 24/7 Helpline (800.272.3900). It will also provide educational materials on brain health, as well as funds for critical Alzheimer's disease research and grassroots awareness activities.

In addition, the Alzheimer's Association will provide services, support, and education on brain health and Alzheimer's disease to Edward Jones' associates and clients.

"With more than 12,000 branch office locations in the United States, this commitment from Edward Jones will move the Alzheimer's cause forward," said Donna McCullough, chief development officer, Alzheimer's Association. "Together we will reach more families who need information, resources and guidance as they face an Alzheimer's diagnosis and caregiving challenges. In addition, funding will support critical research exploring the causes of, and treatments for Alzheimer's disease."

The partnership has several facets. The Alzheimer's Association will work with Edward Jones to create the Edward Jones Alzheimer's Research Fund, a targeted effort to advance research toward methods of treatment, prevention, and ultimately a cure at a quicker pace. Edward Jones will also serve as the nationwide presenting sponsor of the Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's, an event that raised more than $77 million in 2015 to support Alzheimer's Association care and education programs, fuel research, and advance public policy.

The Alzheimer's Association will provide education programs to associates at Edward Jones, and will work to ensure their associates are equipped to share the resources of the Alzheimer's Association with clients.

"We're thrilled to be teaming up with the Alzheimer's Association to help find a cure for one of the greatest threats to the health and wealth of families, including the millions of families that we serve in North America," said John Beuerlein, Edward Jones partner with responsibility for the firm's newly-created Senior Investor Council. "We are proud to make this commitment to the mission of the Alzheimer's Association and its critical fight to end Alzheimer's disease."

The Edward Jones Alzheimer's Research Fund will make grants to research projects chosen by the Edward Jones Senior Investor Council from peer reviewed and best-in-class research projects presented by the Association. The Senior Investor Council will be looking to fund the most impactful research possible to move the cause forward.

In addition, Edward Jones has made a generous commitment to the Alzheimer's Association's sister organization, the Alzheimer's Impact Movement (AIM). For details about AIM, visit www.alzimpact.org.

The Alzheimer's Association is the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer's care, support and research. It is the largest nonprofit funder of Alzheimer's research. The Association's mission is to eliminate Alzheimer's disease through the advancement of research; to provide and enhance care and support for all affected; and to reduce the risk of dementia through the promotion of brain health. Its vision is a world without Alzheimer's. Visit www.alz.org or call 800-272-3900.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Executive order gives preference to businesses adopting climate-friendly business policies

Vermont Governor Peter Shumlin recently signed an executive order giving preference in awarding state contracts to businesses in the state that adopt climate-friendly business policies.

Many states already do this, so the governor was bringing the Green Mountain State in line with the prevailing thought on fighting climate change.

Some of those good practices are: use of thermal and electric efficiency; use of renewable energy sources for operations; reducing and tracking carbon emissions; use of and encouragement of employee utilization of electric and zero-emissions vehicles, including providing workplace charging stations; and offering employees an option for a fossil fuel divested retirement account.

The state awards hundreds of millions of dollars in contracts, every year, so making sure the companies that get those contracts are climate-friendly seems like a good use of the state's influence.

Under the order, if all considerations are similar for a contract, a business that has strong climate change and renewable energy policies will be given favorable treatment over one that does not.

The order does not supersede other contracting considerations already in place, such as lowest cost or rewarding businesses based in Vermont or that manufacture products in Vermont.

Schumlin said he hopes the next governor will continue his order on climate-responsible businesses getting contracts.

Vermont has also made progress on renewable energy, increasing the amount of solar installed or permitted by 10 times and wind energy generation by 20 times since Shumlin took office.

Vermont has joined 21 other states and regional governments in signing the Pan-American action statement on climate change. Also, last year Vermont signed an agreement with five other Northeast and mid-Atlantic states, Connecticut, Delaware, the District of Columbia, New York, and Rhode Island, to work together to develop market-based policies for significant transportation sector reductions in greenhouse gas emissions and other pollution.

The state is trying to promote clean energy and take action to address climate change, and we think that's a good thing.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

"We believe the second-homeowners need to be heard. Just like permanent residents, they call Grafton home. They contribute 60 percent of the taxes and support the town in numerous ways. They chose to live in Grafton and, as some say, maybe Grafton chose them. How can we let a foreign conglomerate dictate to us about who is allowed to vote and how we should vote on a project that would represent the most far-reaching, permanent change for the region in modern times? Grafton residents and second home owners are together dedicated to preserving Grafton's valuable natural environment."

Here's a quote from Joanne Boswell, who with her husband Rick, owns a home in Grafton. "We found Grafton forty-one years ago, or should I say Grafton found us, when I picked up a Bed and Breakfast magazine while living in Waltham, Massachusetts. Rick was finishing business school, always studying, so we took a much-needed break one Sunday and drove to Grafton. This was our first introduction to Vermont; can you imagine crossing over the bridge and seeing the magazine pictures and description of Grafton coming to life, right before your eyes? The Tavern was serving brunch, but said they were booked and were accepting reservations two years out; we vowed to come back to Grafton, and did for forty-one years, no matter where we lived at the time. Thirty-plus years later, the house we imagined owning one day came up for sale, and we bought it. There has never been a time when we have not realized how fortunate we are to be in this special town."

Statement from Grafton Woodlands Group in support of Windham's non-residents to express their opinion by ballot on the industrial wind project slated for Grafton/Windham in the Stiles Brook Forest.

Dear Editor,

September is National Hunger Action Month and the Vermont Foodbank is joining hundreds of other food banks around the country to raise awareness about the issue of hunger in our community. I, too, am joining the effort, on behalf of Black River Good Neighbor Services Food Shelf, and the increasing number of folks who daily come in for food assistance.

According to "Hunger in America 2014" a nationwide survey of the charitable food system, in Vermont 153,000 of our neighbors will visit a food shelf or meal site this year—34,000 of whom are children under the age of 18 years old. And while the Vermont Foodbank and its 225 food shelves, meal sites, shelters, senior centers and youth program are providing 10 million pounds of food to our neighbors struggling with hunger, there is still so much more to be done.

Since 1964 Black River Good Neighbor Services has been providing food, clothing and financial assistance for persons in need throughout the Black River Valley. We rely on the generosity of many donors and volunteers to deliver the services we provide. We receive no funding from federal or state government and less than 2 percent of our budget comes from local government.

I hope you will join me and take action against hunger today. No action is too small—donate, volunteer or advocate. If we all do a little, we can have a big impact on hunger in our state. You can join me and learn more at vtfoodbank.org and brgns.org.

Sincerely,
Krey Kellington
Food Program Administrator
Black River Good Neighbor Services

Dear Editor,

Dangerous Donald Trump

Dangerous Donald Trump (DDT) might be a threat to our viability. He could try to assume dictatorial powers and abolish the Constitution, Congress, and the Supreme Court. Some of his supporters are far right extremists. His candidacy is reminiscent of the Fascists in Germany, Italy, and Japan during the 1930s and 1940s.

DDT has unwittingly proposed to pull our troops out of South Korea and Japan if they do not pay for our aid. This will open up the Far East to Chinese and North Korean expansion. He might try to abandon NATO, thereby enabling Russian expansion in Europe. Trump doesn't have a problem with countries acquiring nuclear weapons. He even encouraged Russia to spy on Clinton. DDT's blunders could lead to miscalculations by totalitarian regimes and increase the possibility of war. Amazingly, he says he knows more about ISIS than our generals.

DDT appears to be unstable, shallow and disorganized, and he does not have the requisite knowledge or understanding of U.S. and world affairs, nor the intellectual capacity, to be President and Commander-In-Chief.

Vote for the socially liberal and fiscally conservative Libertarian ticket of Johnson/Weld.

Dear Editor,

Stuart Lindberg State Legislature District Windsor-2

It has been our pleasure and good fortune to become acquainted with Stu Lindberg a number of years ago when his daughter began taking piano lessons at Candace's home studio.

We have enjoyed having him and his wife Michelle in our home for piano recitals and sitting on our front porch having conversations on local issues that affect our daily lives. We find Stu to be knowledgeable on local and state issues with well-defined opinions that in large part are compatible with our own.

We believe Stu would be a welcome addition to the Vermont State house and provide us with a strong voice for district Windsor 2 and our views.

Dear Editor,

The Gun Owners of Vermont is proud and honored to be a member of the Vermont Gun Shop Project, the one and only project of its kind in Vermont.

Together, with the Vermont Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs and the Center for Health and Learning, we have distributed hundreds of posters and information about this worthy project.

This program is a successful, proactive way to help people in our community who are in need of assistance during times of stress and depression.

I want to allude to an analogy of what the Vermont Gun Shop Project is all about; what I call the "Vermont Way."

The Vermont Way has a 225-year history of neighbors helping neighbors.

When Hurricane Katrina devastated New Orleans little old Vermont with one of the smallest populations in the nation sent more food and clothing to the people of New Orleans than any other state in the union.

Just five years ago Hurricane Irene devastated Vermont. During that time Vermonters of all kinds came together and literally dug out of the mud and devastation of that terrible day.

Throughout the centuries there are literally thousands of examples of things like this in our wonderful state.

It's about friends helping friends, and neighbors helping neighbors.

This is what the Vermont Gun Shop Project is all about.

In this program:

No one will judge you.
No one will seek to take away your rights under Article 16th of the Vermont Constitution.

We, the Gun Owners of Vermont, will be there for you and help in any way that we can.

As an example of this we will be hosting 2 workshops for the firearms community so we can learn how to help the people who are in need.

The first one will be on Sunday, Sept. 18 at the Rutland Country Club.

The second will be on Sunday, Sept. 25 at the Fairbanks Museum in St. Johnsbury.

We are asking the firearms community to volunteer for these workshops.

We, the Gun Owners of Vermont, are here for you in your time of need.

VISION OF LIGHT CHURCH OF SPIRITUALISM AND HEALING, 10 LEGION DRIVE
Sunday gatherings start at 10 a.m., at the Legion Post #48, behind Mike's Mobile station. Spiritualism is the understanding that life continues after death, and that communication is possible between the living and those in spirit. It is a way of living in the knowledge that our soul will live on and the lessons that we learn in our physical lives will stay with us. All of us have free will to make our own choices. All of us have the responsibility to make our own happiness or unhappiness through those choices. We believe that there is a Higher Power, whatever name you want to give to that power. The first principle of Spiritualism is, "We believe in Infinite Spirit and that God is Infinite Spirit." The Vision of Light Church of Spiritualism and Healing provides a venue where you may learn more through communication with like-minded people. Services are held in the Legion Post; take exit 9, off I-91, and turn on Route 5 toward Hartland.

One mile to the Mobile station on the right, turn into the parking lot past the pumps, continue around the Westside of the building and take the first drive to the right.

THIS AND THAT

BY BILL MURPHY

Fall is arriving as we speak. Those cool August nights we wrote about last week, have shown up early in September and their arrival combined with darkness setting in before 7:30 p.m., makes us realize that most of our summer is gone.

Watched both Springfield and Fall Mountain play football on back to back nights last weekend and you can label me crazy, BUT, I am hoping to see both of them climb out of the days of the one sided setback and find success again. The combined score of their losses was 90-12, BUT, I do see the trees from the forest.

Both teams have their own set of problems to overcome to find their way back to gridiron success, BUT, Springfield is definitely ahead of the game, because they have bigger numbers and their progress is further along. As we told readers last week, it is both good news and bad news that Fall Mountain has a good number of freshmen. One can look at a program so many ways. Fall Mountain will return 77 percent of their roster next year, BUT, the loss of seniors Koal Simonds, Thomas Moses, Tyler Charuhas, Hunter Marion and Kobey Chase is a mammoth loss. The best news is that the Cats have so many sophomores and freshmen making an impact, so IF they can attract good numbers the next two years, the tide could turn. HOWEVER, if they don't attract players who are able to contribute, the program could be in serious trouble.

The bad news is that Springfield is facing two more very challenging weeks back to back on the gridiron with Woodstock and Windsor heading into Brown Field on back to back Friday nights. Neither team is as deep as Bellows Falls was in talent, BUT, both compete at a much higher level than the Cosmos. IF I were Rich Sappack, of course I would be looking to pull off the miracle, BUT, the truth is, IF these Cosmos continue to grow even without a win, by week four, they may have progressed more playing against the tough teams, than they would have versus teams they were more competitive against. They played extremely hard right up until the end against Bellows Falls, IF they keep that up, growth should definitely set in, win or lose.

In my dream world, I would like to set up a five team high school football league with teams like Springfield, Fall Mountain, Missisquoi and MSJ/Poultney and let them play home and home games against each other to keep their programs going and competitive. Springfield would most definitely graduate from that league in a years time, BUT, it would be a good way for a team to find their way or, at least keep playing competitive football.

I think I found my way to knowing that a catch is a catch is so many different ways. The NFL went through their days last year with trying to define what a catch was and Friday night, I thought I knew what a catch was UNTIL IT HAPPENED. Bellows Falls was leading Springfield 14-0 late in the first quarter. On a third and seven play, Terrier Caleb Lisai threw a pass to the Cosmo 3 from the 45 yard line. As I saw it, receiver Jacob Streeter jumped in the air to catch the ball and was met by Cosmo defensive back Mason Olney. Streeter appeared to have the bulk of the ball at the outset, BUT, by the time the two hit the ground, Olney had most of the possession with Streeter holding on for dear life. My common sense told me it was Springfield's ball. The rulebook, I am told, says it is joint possession (because Streeter was holding on for dear life and never lost his grip) and since the offense started the play with the ball, it stays in their possession.

Tom Brady will be appearing at his alma mater Michigan during his forced absence from the Patriots. I would not be surprised IF he ends up sharing some type of practice session with the Wolverines.

Give both the BF and Fall Mountain athletic administration credit for not giving up on their athletes. While soccer was the original accepted sport at Fall Mountain and football has had its up and down days, the opposite has been true in Bellows Falls. In fact soccer the past two years, has had more trouble getting off the ground in BF, than football has in Fall Mountain. BF boys soccer didn't complete last season and looked like they would not exist this year, BUT, as of now, there is a plan for a shortened schedule.

Tim Ryan, whose picture appeared in this publication recently, was one of the greatest coaches in Bellows Falls High School history. Ryan passed away after a long battle with pancreatic cancer over the Labor Day weekend. Ryan spent ten years coaching both basketball and baseball for the Terriers, bringing each sport to Division I title games. He lived the last years of his life in Brattleboro after his coaching days ended in Connecticut. Although dates and times were not officially announced at press time, it appeared calling hours would be Friday night in Brattleboro with a Saturday morning funeral. Check for an official announcement before attending.

Interlakes slams Wildcats in opener

BY BILL MURPHY

LANGDON, N.H. - Interlakes was a New Hampshire Division III play-off team one year ago. Expectations are they will return to the post season again. The visitors from Meredith were quite impressive in Langdon Saturday night running through the Fall Mountain Wildcats 48-6.

Andrew Brothers was enemy number one doing damage versus the Wildcats in the one sided opener. Brothers took the opening kickoff at his own 18 and ran the ball out to midfield before the final Cat defender drove him out of bounds. Brothers carried for nine yards on the next play, before two straight strong defensive plays gave hope to the Wildcats.

First, Eli Swanson caught a Ryan Kelly four-yard pass for a first down, BUT, a jarring hit by FM's Chris Bashaw made everyone realize the hosts were playing hard. On the next play, Brothers was stopped cold in his tracks behind the line of scrimmage by Thomas Moses and a faint hope rose in the stands, that the Wildcats could compete. BUT.

Three plays later Brothers scored on a ten-yard scamper breaking two tackles on the way and the scoreboard read 7-0 after the Kelly conversion kick with 7:12 remaining in the opening stanza.

Fall Mountain had picked up a first down on their initial possession, BUT, found things not as easy the second time around and sophomore quarterback Jacob Shoemaker fumbled when trying to elude pressure on a third down play and Interlakes recovered at the Cats 21. Coach John Callahan likes a lot of Fall Mountain's Chris Bashaw is shown running the football in the second period on Saturday evening in a 48-6 loss to Interlakes. Bashaw had the majority of the Wildcats rushing yards in their second half touchdown drive. The Cats expect to be much more competitive this Saturday night when they face Raymond at 7 p.m.

things he sees in Shoemaker and says, He is showing good signs of leadership for a young player," but obviously the quality did not help on this play.

Interlakes quickly took advantage of the turnover with a Brothers 12-yard run and then a Kelly nine-yard scoring pass to Collin Sheehan leading the way to doubling the count to 14-0 with 5:15 left in the opening quarter. Fall Mountain was forced into another three and out and this time it was Brothers doing the damage by way of a punt return of 60 yards for the score upping the scoreboard numbers to 21-0 with 2:55 still on the clock in the first. AND THERE WAS MORE TO COME BEFORE THE CLOCK REACHED 0:00.

Yes Interlakes had one more tally name of the FM offensive game in the second half with both Koal Simonds and Bashaw getting the bulk of the carries.

Simonds, who pounded both offensively from his fullback spot and linebacker position most of the evening, hurt his shoulder in the second half and was forced to leave the contest. IF Fall Mountain is to grow this season and enter the win column, which at full health they could, it is important that Simonds heals quickly. It was Bashaw and later in the drive Shoemaker and Layton Stevens, who lugged the ball, over a 13-play 50-yard drive to finally put the Langdonites on the board with 1:44 to play, when Shoemaker made a nifty fourth down connection with Brad Andrzejczyk on a seven-yard scoring play.

"We kept trying banging in there," Callahan said of Bashaw's effort when he carried the ball the first five plays of the drive for half of the yards before running completely out of gas, so Callahan and Shoemaker started dialing up different numbers. Fall Mountain's perseverance paid off in the end.

Callahan had told "The Shopper/Vermont Journal" a couple of weeks ago that the defense really concerned him and the play on that side of the ball, showed the overall squad lack of depth on opening night. Callahan went on further to say after the loss that "It's a kind of mentality we have to develop. We have to become more physical and we are not there yet."

The Cats return to action in Langdon on Saturday night as they host Raymond in a 7 p.m. contest that should be much closer than the opener.

Two-Point Conversion

The Bellows Falls Terriers have added a lineman to their backfield mix. Twice during the Falls Friday night season opening win over Springfield, DJ Snide (57) ran in a two-point conversion. The game also happened to be Snide's birthday. I wonder how many linemen get to carry the ball on their birthday?

2016 Vermont Women's Mid-Amateur Golf Championship

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. - Brattleboro Country Club is host to this year's VSWG mid-amateur golf tournament, being held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 10-11. The event is open to women 35 years and older; Sixty-six women are scheduled to play.

Two-time Mid-Amateur champion Holly Reynolds of Copley CC will be competing. Copley also won her eighth state Amateur title last month at Green Mountain National Golf Club in Killington.

Another two-time Mid-Amateur champion, Reggie Parker of Ekwanok CC, will be in the field as well. Parker is also an eight-time state Senior champion, winning most recently at the Country Club of Barre this July.

Other top contenders and past Mid-Amateur winners are Erika Politano of Green Mountain National GC and Jeanne Morrissey of Williston GC.

The 2015 Mid-Amateur champion, Tiffany Maurycy of Orleans CC, will not be defending her title, as she has qualified to play in the U.S. Women's Mid-Amateur Championship Sept. 10-15 at The Kahkwa Club in Erie, Pennsylvania. Maurycy shot a 77 to place second in her qualifying round at Pinehurst CC in Denver, Colorado, on Aug. 18. The U.S. Mid-Amateur is open to women 25 years and older who have a USGA handicap no higher than 9.4. This year's field is 132 players.

The VSWG will provide results of its Mid-Amateur tournament after each day of play. Results and photographs also will be available at www.vswga.org.

Terriers back to the five yard line, where it took just three plays for Jayhye Bullard to break through the Purple 12 where Jacob Streeter returned it to the 23 from where a seven-play 77-yard drive took place, culminating in a four-yard Jacob Lober TD run. DJ Snide added the two extra points on a shotgun run and the 14-0 advantage.

Springfield did pick up a first down in their second possession on a Ryan McSally swing pass to Bryson Jester, but, eventually punted the ball to the Purple 12 where Jacob Streeter returned it to the 23 from where a seven-play 77-yard drive took place, culminating in a four-yard Jacob Lober TD run. DJ Snide added the two extra points on a shotgun run and the 14-0 advantage.

Springfield gave it their all on every possession offensively and utilized a two quarterback attack with Kyle Monier sharing time with McSally, but, the first team BF defense was just too strong for most everything the Cosmos ran. The truth is, it does appear this offense should improve with repetition and even though they will continue to face strong defenses the next two weeks at home (Woodstock this Friday and against Windsor the next Friday at Brown Field) has hope down the line. In the Cosmos third possession, they picked up seven yards and then punted the ball away. This time it was a Terrier five-play 72-yard drive with a ruled Streeter catch of a 41-yard aerial from Caleb Lisai at the 3, which set up the score. A penalty on the next play, moved the pigskin backwards, but, Logan Cota would race 11 yards for the score at the 2:29 mark to up the tally to 22-0 thanks to another Snide extra point run.

Bellows Falls would not punt in the first half, but the Cosmos would stop them once on downs, but not until the score reached 38-0. A Falls possession which began on the last play of the first quarter went four-plays and 52-yards with Cota's second TD, a 35-yard run jumping the count to 28-0 with 10:47 to play until the half. Two more second period Terrier drives would find the end zone, first a three play 38-yard drive, which ended with a Lisai to Lober 24-yard swing pass and a Lisai to Cota conversion, while the final six pointer was courtesy of a one-yard carry by Lober with 35.8 seconds remaining until halftime.

Lockerby played the second half with his second teamers and the two teams added plenty of up and down football as a result. After intermission, it was a very competitive game with the Cosmos putting the only points on the board with the last play of the third stanza and the opening play of the fourth turning the trick. A nine-play 86-yard Springfield excursion found the Green and White with the football on the BF 10 as time expired in the third period after a Monier to Olney pass covered forty yards, directly after a blocking penalty had wiped out a previous Cosmos big play. On the first play of the fourth period, LaCapelle ran 10 yards for the games final score with 11:53 to play.

Cosmos Coach Rich Saypeck knew the competition would be tough for his squad the first three weeks and told us after the contest: "We said before we came down, we were going to play 48 minutes of football and we did. BF has a good football team. They shoot off the line very well. They may well be the best in Division II."

After the win, Lockerby told us, "I'm excited about this football team. We have a stable of running backs, a great tight end, another solid split end, a quarterback who can see over the line; and we have an offensive line (Reno Tuttle, Nick Tuttle, Brady Illingworth, DJ Snide, Brian Green and Jared Zobkiw), who is further ahead of where we were a year ago, but, there is a long way to go." The BF offense Lockerby is talking about is an offense that amassed 453-yards in the opener and certainly has not approached their possible potential, will be one which will be fun for Terrier fans to follow.

BF travels to Mount Abraham in Bristol for a Friday night 7 p.m. contest this week.

went on to say, "We spoke about it at halftime and I think they settled down a bit. They were excited and nervous. I wish the game had been a little cleaner."

Kelly had two goals in the game, while she was joined in the second half goal scoring by both Abbe Cravino and Reagan Baldasaro finding the net. Emma Lober and Brigid Hodsden split the duties in goal and Coursen said the time splitting in the nets is likely to become the norm this year. "We want to have two goalies ready for play-offs just in case. Can't really evaluate their shutout performance because they didn't touch the ball," Coursen noted.

Coursen applauded the overall defensive effort of her team and then added "Madison Streeter played a great game, she was all over the field and Paxton (Santorelli) and Murphy (Hicks) made sure, when it was necessary, that the ball stayed in their end, meaning the end with the Brattleboro goal."

Mount Anthony was the next opponent for the BF team looking to go deep into the post season. The Patriots were playing in BF Tuesday as this paper was being printed.

Fall Craft Festival on the Green in Chester

CHESTER, Vt. - Kicking off the fall season on Sept. 17 and 18 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., is the 42nd annual Fall Craft Festival on the Green in Chester. Crowds of people converge on the Green, one of the "Most Beautiful Villages in New England," to explore the unique handmade crafts offered by over 60 vendors lining the green.

Handmade crafts include: wood products, glass, jewelry, photography, watercolors, fiber arts, paper arts, pottery, quilts, soaps and more! Additions this year include a Children's Tent and Dux, The Balloon Man. Discover the Beer Garden behind the Fullerton Inn on Saturday, stroll through the quaint stone village, and sample a wide variety of interesting food.

Live artisan demonstrations occur throughout the weekend. Musical entertainment schedule for Saturday: 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. - The Last Chance Band, a smooth blend of rock and roll; noon to 1 p.m. - Will Danforth, good-time American roots music on guitar, slide guitar, frillin' banjo and wailin' blues harp; 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. - Weston Playhouse, Seasonal Highlights.

Musical Entertainment schedule for Sunday: noon to 1 p.m. - Root 7, lively vocal music, all genres, for all audiences; 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. - Ida Mae Specker and Faith Wood, offering a rambunctious fusion of traditional music.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club of Chester, the Festival is a hallmark of the beginning of fall in this quintessential New England village. Free Admission. More information can be found at www.chesterfallfestival.org.

Annual Phineas Gage walk and talk

CAVENDISH, Vt. - There are probably few readers that aren't aware of Phineas Gage, the railroad foreman, who on Sept. 13, 1848, had a tamping rod pass through his head as a result of a blasting accident, and lived for 12 more years.

What people may know less about is Dr. John Martyn Harlow, the Cavendish physician who treated him and followed his recovery, thereby documenting the first case of traumatic brain injury in the medical literature. Also of interest is Dr. Edwards Williams, whose practice was on Depot St. in Proctorsville, but was first on the scene. It was to him that Gage made his famous remark, "Doctor, here is business enough for you."

Harlow's training in antiphlogistic therapy (preventing or relieving inflammation) was important to Gage's survival. But what happened to him when he left Cavendish in 1857? Was he really the "obscure country doctor," as he referred to himself?

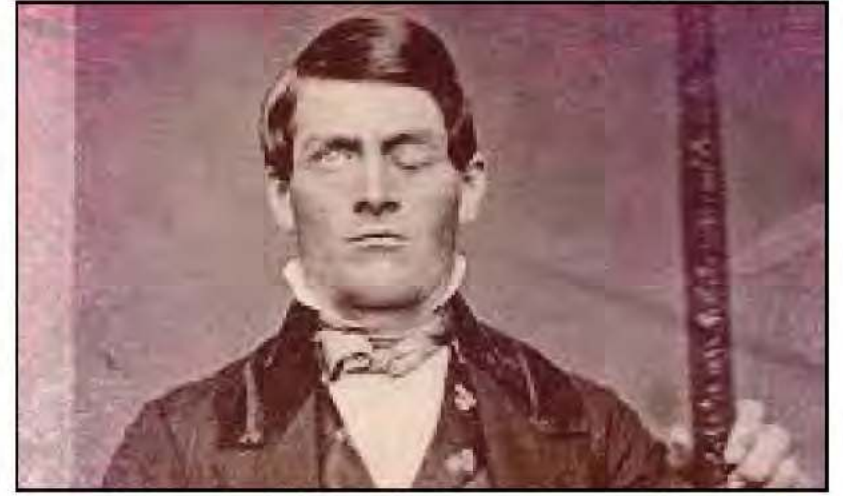

Dr. Williams left medicine, became a member of the Royal Swedish Academy of Science, and was decorated as a Knight of the Order of the Polar Star and went into the railroad business.

Learn more about Dr. Harlow and Dr. Williams at the Cavendish Historical Society's annual Phineas Gage Walk and Talk, which takes place on Sept. 11 at the CHS Museum, Rte. 131.

The program begins at 2 p.m. at the Museum. The walk includes the location of the accident, Dr. Harlow's home/surgery, and the boarding house where Gage was taken after his injury.

This program is free and open to the public. For more information, please call 802-226-7807 or email margocaulfield@icloud.com.

Lockwood at Village Square Booksellers

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. - Join Village Square Booksellers in welcoming New Hampshire author Bill

Lockwood on Friday, Sept. 15 at 7 p.m. as part of BF3E, where Bill will discuss his first novel, "Buried Gold."

Bill Lockwood is currently living in North Walpole, New Hampshire, but he is known locally for being part of the Our Town group that restored the Bellows Falls Opera House and put on theatrical performances as The Front Porch Theatre Group.

Call 802-463-9404 or email vs-books@sover.net for event and book reservations; signed copies can be pre-ordered by visiting <http://www.villagesquarebooks.com/product/buried-gold>.

About the book: Evie, a single thirty-something, steals a map from her father's New York City home after he dies. The map is the principal clue to where a box of ten-dollar gold coins was buried during Prohibition, just before Revenuers raided her great grandfather's illegal rum running business out on Long Island.

Evie and Cindy, her daughter, collect other clues staying just a step ahead of Evie's two evil brothers, who are after the treasure. Her search is complicated by the murder of one of the old-timers in the little town on Peconic Bay as Evie desperately tries to track down someone who will give her the clue that will make the map work. She also elicits the help of a bartender and an old boyfriend... Getting rich is not easy.

Bill Lockwood was a social services worker for both the states of Maryland and Vermont by day until his retirement in 2015. At night he has been an avid amateur theater participant and writer.

Bill Lockwood was born and grew up in Baltimore City where he was among a group that founded the community off Broadway size house Fells Point Theatre in 1973. In the '80s he wrote articles and theater reviews in Stage Right, a local Theater newsletter in Baltimore. In 1992 he moved to southeastern Vermont.

He had four short stories published in obscure literary magazines in the mid '90s and wrote articles covering the arts, personalities, and rural downtown development in the Bellows Falls Town Crier from 1998 through 2006. He also wrote articles for other local publications as well as Vermont tourist magazines.

He was very active in the Bellows Falls community, being on a number of civic committees including the annual Old Home Days event for which he wrote press releases and other publicity pieces for a number of years.

In 2006 he received the Greater Falls Regional Chamber of Commerce Person of the Year Award for his work as Chairman of the Bellows Falls Opera House Restoration Committee upon the successful completion of their ten-year project. The Wild Rose Press will release his first novel, "Buried Gold" in August of 2016. He has a second novel "Megan of the Mists" under contract with the same publisher.

classics as "Notorious" and "Rear Window," and discuss the evolution of Hitchcock's craft which will illustrate the arc of Hitchcock's brilliant career.

OLLI, affiliated with the University of Vermont, is a local membership program geared towards seniors aged 50 years and older who want to engage in meaningful learning, "just for the fun of it!"

The OLLI series programs are selected with input from the local members and carry varied themes from semester to semester including: history, art, music, literature, health, nature, science and current events.

Programs are held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday afternoons and last about an hour and a half.

There is a fee for membership for the semester, which includes nine programs. Non-members are encouraged and welcome to attend individual lectures for a single program fee. Memberships, as well as single program fees, may be paid at the program.

The following OLLI program will be held two weeks later on Sept. 27, "Springfield Gears Up: A Civil War Songbook." Linda Radtke will perform Civil War era songs and explain their history.

Brochures have been distributed throughout the area towns at businesses, the local libraries, town halls and Chamber of Commerce offices. The complete Springfield and state-wide program list is available on the internet at www.learn.uvm.edu/olli. LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Confidence grows as you work your way through some knotty situations. Watch out for distractions from well-meaning supporters that could slow things down.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Consider spending more time contemplating the possibilities of an offer before opting to accept or reject it. But once you make a decision, act on it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're in a very strong position this week to tie up loose ends in as many areas as possible. Someone close to you has advice you might want to heed.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Congratulations. This is the week you've been waiting for: After a period of sudden stops and fitful starts, your plans can now move ahead with no significant disruptions.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You're in an exceptionally strong position this week to make decisions on many still-unresolved matters, especially those involving close personal relationships.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The new moon starts this week off with some positive movement in several areas. A special person becomes a partner in at least one of the major plans you'll be working on.

BORN THIS WEEK: You work hard and get things done. You also inspire others to do their best. You would do well heading up a major corporation.

LIBRARIES

EVERY OTHER THURSDAY BEG. SEPT. 8 – CHARLESTOWN, N.H. – The Silsby Library, 226 Main St. in Charlestown, will host the Roaming Readers at 9 a.m. In an effort to be active before the winter months, the library is starting a book club that meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of the month. Join us in front of the library as we walk our beautiful stretch of town and discuss the latest books we have been reading. Make sure to wear comfortable sneakers!

MONDAY, SEPT. 12 – LUDLOW, Vt. – Come to the Fletcher Memorial Library off Main St. for the STEM Discovery Zone from 5 to 6 p.m. This week will feature "Blast off with Mini-Bottle Rockets!" Participants will have a chance to experiment with force and motion as they design, build, and launch their own mini-bottle rocket.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 15 – CHARLESTOWN, N.H. – The Silsby Library, 226 Main St. in Charlestown, will host Hiking Charlestown at 9 a.m. Join us for a series of hikes that feature the trails and nature of Charlestown! Jim Fowler will be our guide for this fun trail as we meet at the trail heads. Sept. 15 Reservoir Lot Trail – meet at trail head off North Hemlock Road just up and across the road from Blueberry Hill Road. Please wear proper attire, sunscreen, and insect repellent.

LUDLOW, Vt. – Come to the Fletcher Memorial Library off Main St. for "Books and Cooks," featuring yummy oatmeal bars. The event is open for children in grades two through six and runs from 3 to 4 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21 – CHARLESTOWN, N.H. – The Silsby Library, 226 Main St. in Charlestown, will host Brewing in New Hampshire: An Informal History of Beer in the Granite State from Colonial Times to the Present at 7 p.m. Glenn Knoblock explores the fascinating history of New Hampshire's beer and ale brewing industry from Colonial days, when it was home- and tavern-based, to today's modern breweries and brew pubs. Unusual and rare photos and advertisements document this changing industry and the state's earliest brewers, including the renowned Frank Jones. A number of lesser-known brewers and breweries that operated in the state are also discussed, including the only brewery owned and operated by a woman before the modern era. Brought to us by NH Humanities to Go.

MONDAYS – LUDLOW, Vt. – DCF Book Club meets Mondays from 4 - 4:30 p.m. at the Fletcher Memorial Library. For grades four through eight. Join us each week as the librarian reads aloud from this month's book club selection.

TUESDAYS – LUDLOW, Vt. – Come to the Fletcher Memorial Library off Main St. for "Crafty Tuesdays," from 3 to 4 p.m. for kindergarten through grade six age children. Sept. 6: Back Pack Tags- School's back in session so let's make some cool duct tape tags that will be sure to make your back pack stand out from the rest! Sept. 13: 3D Lizards- Using simple supplies we'll make some awesome neon lizards! Sept. 20: Fabric Bowls- Learn how to make a fun and colorful bowl using fabric scraps! Sept. 27: Emoji Pockets- Are you always looking for somewhere to stash your stuff? Today we'll be making the perfect pouch to store all your little treasures.
