Rockingham discusses Town Meeting, Articles up for vote

BY BETSY THURSTON
The Shopper

ROCKINGHAM, Vt. – On Monday, Feb. 28, the Town of Rockingham Information Meeting was held in the Lower Theatre of the Bellows Falls Opera House with roughly 100 voters attending, 60 by Zoom.

L. Ray Massucco moderated, informing residents that the Secretary of State had stated that afternoon Zoom attendees were not eligible to vote and only those in-person could do so.

The School District started the meeting, as it was an even year, and Articles 1 and 11 were voted on unanimously.

James McAuliffe moved to Article 2, asking for $9,697,976.38, a number that was 17.4% lower per pupil than last year. He asked for approval of the budget and to “bear with us” as they sorted through the problems from the business office. Articles 3 through 7 applied a surplus from 2020 to the next five years to offset taxes. Articles 8 and 9 created fund balances for capital investments including roof work at Central and Middle Schools. Superintendent Andy Haas explained some of the received ESSER Funds would be utilized for heating and cooling systems but they must be Covid-related expenditures.

Massucco said Articles 3 through 13 would be voted upon by Australian Ballot on March 1. Article 2, to receive reports of Town Officers, was voted on unanimously.

Municipal Manager Scott Pickup said that Covid had impacted the town in both positive ways, enabling them to receive federal funding, and hurt them in other ways, like operations at the Opera House.

Dennis Harty asked about the budget, wanting to see actual numbers. Chair Peter Golec explained the audit was available in a separate handout, but that they used the numbers from last year.

Rick Cowan moved to Article 5, authorizing cannabis retail and provided a brief overview of Title 7, Section 863. He said Rockingham was one of 40 towns voting this year.

GFC Director Laura Schairbaum said the Cannabis Control Board would prohibit ads appealing to kids, claims on health benefits, and add warning labels. She encouraged Rockingham, if this passed, to establish a local commission supporting larger buffer zones.

Golec moved to Article 6 on the budget for FY23 of $6,354,252 of which $5,079,889 would be raised by taxes. He also discussed some of the higher numbers based on previous budgets including recycling that was due to increased staff and higher oil and construction costs on the paving projection.

Elijah Zimmer moved on to Article 7 approving $94,603 for social services. Wright called a point of order and said the Ballot showed a different number on the specific amounts for social services than the Warning.

Harty said the voters were approving the sum

Springfield Informational Meeting hears few questions

BY KYLE

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. –

At the Springfield Town Informational Hearing on Monday, Feb. 28, very few questions were asked in regards to any of the articles up for discussion. Town and School District Moderator Larry Kraft presided, reading the articles in question and recognizing speakers and residents with comments pertaining to the individual items.

Very little was discussed on the topic of any of the articles in question, with the exception of Article 4, which was accompanied by a presentation by Town Manager Jeff Mobus, Article 8, which was accompanied by a presentation by School Superintendent Zach McLaughlin, and Article 11, to which Schoolboard members, represented primarily by Schoolboard member Troy Palmer, spoke to the budget for the 2023 year.

In regards to Article 4, Mobus gave an in-depth description of the proposed allotment of Town budget funds, a total of $13,425,871, breaking down where the funds would go. His slideshow presentation described an increased tax amount of $534,245 compared to 2022, to a total of $10,614,341 to be raised by local taxes. The projects requiring the raise in taxes include retirement payouts and public works equipment replacement. Besides the primary Town budget, Mobus shed some light on Articles 5 and 6, which concern infrastructure in Springfield – namely road improvements and sidewalks that would be installed throughout the town.

McLaughlin discussed Article 8, which would authorize the Town Treasurer, with approval, to borrow money for short-term expense coverage for the Springfield School District. McLaughlin emphasized that this is an article that has always passed in previous years, and would merely be a precaution in case something happens. According to McLaughlin, the last time Springfield needed to utilize these expense coverages was in November of 2014, and that it lasted only a few weeks.

Schoolboard member Troy Palmer was on hand to speak to Article 11, which concerns the School budget for the year. The proposed budget totals $32,997,951, or $19,288 per pupil. This projected spending is 5.75% higher per pupil than in 2022.

Palmer reminded voters that only “$7.9 million of the $33 million is raised

New taxi service starting in Springfield

BY BILL LOCKWOOD
The Shopper

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. –

Springfield is about to have taxi service again. First time small business owners David and Kathleen Holton have come forward to replace the vital service that was ended by the recent sudden death of Kim Rhodes. His taxi service provided rides for many, especially elderly, residents of Springfield. Many had come to depend on him for rides to medical appointments, for groceries, for access to the Laundromat, and many other things for the past 23 years. Kathleen said, “Kim was essential, and the community came to realize that when he passed.”

The Holtons feel proud to be starting their own business, and David says, “It’s a job where we can be a service to the community.” They have gotten the necessary certifications and are bonded. They have opened a storefront office on Main Street, joined the Springfield Area Chamber of Commerce, and have a silver 2012 Mazda 3, shined and cleaned to new car standards. It proudly displays signs with the name of their new business, Springfield Taxi Company. David says with the current Covid situation the cab will be “fully sterilized” between riders, and masks will be required. And they have managed to keep the phone number of Kim Rhodes’ old service that so many of those who depended on his rides have memorized. Kathleen says, “People are already calling to set up rides.”

David and Kathleen have both been area residents for some time, David being born in Springfield, and Kathleen moving here some years ago from Holyoke, Mass. They were married in Comptu Park before it underwent its recent renovations. Having each worked a number of other jobs over the years, they are both excited to now be opening a business of their own. Kathleen says, “We expect to live up to the community’s expectation of quality service.” Having both heard around town that some people are now “gouging the elders” who need rides, Kathleen says, “We love our community, and we want to make sure it is up and running again with no unfair treatment to the elders on our watch.” David stresses the need to respect the dignity of those in need.

Kathleen also sees them doing special promotions on occasion like “Quiz Cab,” questions whose correct answer might give one a free ride or some other prize. She feels, “It will add that little element of fun and will add to connecting with the community.” They also want to honor the memory of Kim Rhodes. They say they found out from his widow that he died with $550 outstanding from riders he had given credit. He would let some pay him in the future for rides now. The Holtons want to have a donation box, and they will match up to $250 in an attempt to set things right.

The Holtons hope the business will grow to allow them to purchase a second vehicle. Then they will both be drivers. To start, David will drive and Kathleen will take the phone calls. They also see a future where they might even have a mini van that is handicapped equipped.

The company expects to be fully operational by the first of March when residents can once again use 802-885-6990 to call a cab.

Pasta maker offers affordable, artisanal food

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. –

When Springfield resident Leah Grant left her Human Services management job last year, she had no idea that only months later she would have grown a following for her homemade, artisanal pasta.

Grant, a home care provider who homeschools her ten-year-old son, initially saw pasta making as a way to work on fine motor skills, coordination, and teamwork. After posting photos of her creations on personal social media pages, requests for orders followed, and Grant quickly recognized a niche to be filled.

No stranger to creating artisanal products - she formerly had a line of handmade soaps that she sold at local markets - Grant immersed herself in pasta. She joined online groups, watched videos, and asked a lot of questions of experienced pasta makers, working up to 14 hours a day to learn how best to adapt recipes and properly dry product. “I threw away a lot of flour!” she remarks. She researched and purchased pasta-making tools and dehydrators, and familiarized herself with Vermont cottage food laws to ensure all products met standards for consumer safety.

Although she is in talks to supply her pasta to several local stores, Grant remains dedicated to selling directly to consumers. “Markups in stores are so high that the food can become inaccessible,” she explains. “I want to be able to offer the community healthy food for a reasonable price.”

An advocate for quality food, Grant exclusively uses premium ingredients, including flour from King Arthur and Bob’s Red Mill, and locally sourced eggs. Customers can choose from plain, wheat, and flavored pasta (including Basic Garlic, Lemon Pepper, Spinach, Egg, and Roasted Red Pepper) in a variety of shapes. She is particularly proud of her gluten-free offerings, for which she receives a lot of interest. “Most commercial gluten-free pasta is tasteless - it needs a lot of sauce and breaks down so easily, and it can be expensive,” says Grant. “People have been so thankful that my pasta is not only flavorful but is affordable. And I’m happy to be able to provide something that many people wouldn’t typically be able to access.”

As for the name Imperfect Pasta? “As much as I try to get it uniform, there’s no way I’m going to get it to look like boxed pasta, or for the gluten-free pasta to not crack a little bit,” Grant explains. “That’s just the nature of homemade pasta.” One culprit in particular is variable humidity, which can cause differences in appearance in the same recipe made on different days.

Pasta orders can be placed through the Imperfect Pasta Facebook page, www.facebook.com/ImperfectPastaLLC. Orders are typically ready to be picked up or delivered within 2-24 hours, depending on availability. An ecommerce website is in the works, and Grant will be appearing at local markets in the spring. For more information about Imperfect Pasta, please contact Leah Grant at grantleah42@gmail.com.

Meals on Wheels celebrates 50 years

REGION – On a recent Monday morning, volunteers came rushing in the door of the Springfield Meals Center, busily loading their cars and preparing for another day’s deliveries. March 2022 marks 50 years since Meals on Wheels, the nation’s premier nutrition program for seniors, was funded. For Vermont’s aging population, it has become a lifeline for many of our neighbors – even more so during the Covid pandemic.

“Today we’re delivering 109 meals,” said Jane Nichols, a volunteer who was setting out meals that morning. “We prepare anywhere from 85-100 meals every day, and then get ready for the dozen or so people who attend our congregate meals at noon.”

Meals on Wheels of Greater Springfield regularly brings meals to seniors who are unable to leave their homes or prepare their own food every day in Springfield, Chester, Andover, Baltimore, and Weathersfield. According to Director Sue Levine, there are about 95 local residents who rely on this service regularly, as well as some residents living with disabilities at the Vermont Center for Independent Living. In all, the Springfield meal site delivers more than 2,000 meals every month.

“We just added a gentleman in Chester to my route,” said one volunteer. “He had been falling, and had two knees replaced, and was just very uncomfortable thinking about shopping and cooking. He is so incredibly grateful that we can make his life just a little bit easier as he recuperates.”

That afternoon at the Bellows Falls Area Senior Center, staff, board members, and volunteers filed into the comfortable gathering room and the conversation turned to another day’s successful Meals on Wheel’s deliveries.

“You won’t find a better meal for the price,” declared volunteer driver Fred Yates. “They’re balanced, nutritious, and delicious. It’s a great service.”

“And we have a good time. You won’t find a friendlier bunch of people anywhere,” added another volunteer, Wayne Johnson.

One quickly gets the impression that this is a team that is genuinely happy and dedicated to be serving the community as they do.

The Bellows Falls operation is unique in southeastern Vermont, in that it crosses the state border. “We cover Walpole and North Walpole, as well as Rockingham,” said Senior Center director Teahan Kosut. With daily meals provided to more than 60 area residents who can not leave their home or prepare meals on their own, the faithful fleet of volunteers is a key element of the operation. In November 2021, the center hit an all-time record, providing 2,084 meals in one month.

“The program is focused on nutritional needs, but there is also the social aspect of having a familiar, friendly face come to the door,” says Wendi Germain, the nutrition and wellness director of Senior Solutions, which provides support to the program. “For many, these drivers may be the only face they see all week. We so appreciate these volunteers. I cannot overemphasize how critical it is to have public support for these programs, through both volunteerism and donations.” Wendi noted that Meals on Wheels operations across Vermont rely heavily on public donations to keep them running – with more than 50% of the funding coming from local donations.

Those wishing to volunteer to deliver or to sign up to receive meals from the Springfield site, can call Sue Levine at 802-885-5879. Donations to help support the operation in its 50th Anniversary year can be made by a check to MOW Greater Springfield and mailed to them at 139 Main St., Springfield VT 05156.

Those wishing to volunteer drive time for the Bellows Falls site should contact Teagan Kosut at 802-463-3907. Donations may be made directly to the Bellows Falls Area Senior Center and mailed to them at 18 Tuttle St, Bellows Falls, VT 05101.

The Community Closet official reopening

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. – The Community Closet, an outreach ministry of Immanuel Episcopal Church at 20 Church St. in Bellows Falls, is reopening on Saturday, March 5. It will be open regularly on Saturdays from 9 a.m. – 1 p.m. Parking for the Closet can be reached via the driveway at 9 School St.

Our mission is to provide clothing for children and adults at a minimal cost.

Household goods are free. To celebrate this reopening there will be a free raffle of gift certificates to local businesses.

We will accept donations of gently used, clean clothing during our regular hours.

Bellows Falls Woman’s Club

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. – The members of the Bellows Falls Woman’s Club will resume meeting in person on March 8, at the United Church, School Street, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Tim Johnson, local optometrist, will speak to the group about eye health and care. Masks are available and must be worn throughout the meeting. Distancing with seating will be accommodated as best possible.

Members are reminded to bring nonperishable food items for Our Place Drop-in Center. There is an appeal for canned fruits, vegetables, and soups. It is helpful to have cans with pop off tops. With monetary donations, which are also appreciated, the center buys food from the VT Food Bank at reduced prices. Throughout Covid, The Drop-in has continued to offer a takeout continental breakfast and lunch four days a week and also to assemble free food boxes.

requested and the Board could by rights allocate this money anywhere. He also said that voting by Australian Ballot, people might vote ‘No’ because of the transposed numbers.

Bonnie North moved to approve Article 8, the Library budget of $431,555, with $379,250 to be raised by taxes. Director Ian Graham said the budget was the same as last year and he thanked the Town offices and Board for working together.

Susan Hammond moved on to Article 9 to approve $75,000 for the acquisition of the railroad station. Development Director Gary Fox said this was a historic opportunity for the Town. He mentioned the Town’s failure to secure Senator Leahy’s earmarks in 2002-2005 because the station was privately owned and not eligible for federal funding. Fox discussed the 5 year Rail Plan that supported transit-oriented development and that Amtrak and Vermont Rail were looking to upgrade passenger stations and platforms, the Vermonter to add a round trip to Montreal, and the Valley Flyer to extend service to White River Junction from New Haven, Conn.

Morse said he would be more comfortable if there was a funder and Fox explained that a private partner was interested. He said in November the State would apply for federal funding on shovel-ready projects and the town needed to show its commitment.

Article 10 asked for $150,000 for a new plow truck. Pickup explained that this was part of the equipment replacement schedule, but due to supply chain issues, it would take 1.5 years for delivery and they wanted to buy it now.

Jamey Berrick suggested the Town look at new lease vehicles and trading in after five years. He said he worked with hundreds of pieces of equipment and found better costs associated with leasing.

Cowan moved on to Article 11 for $22,000 to fund the Meeting House Capital Reserve Fund. He said Rockingham was lucky to have this historic treasure and the Selectboard supported this action.

A discussion was held on the Australian Ballot Articles of 12 and 13. Steve Crofter questioned the legality of voting for the AB vote by Australian Ballot. Golec updated everyone on Act 162 and the revised Act 77 which clarified the question. He said the Board had two choices at their last meeting: to delay the Annual Meeting or vote on Articles 3 through 13 by AB with a special meeting for attendees to vote for future Australian Ballot. The latter was decided.

Susan Brace encouraged residents to vote down the AB, and said this could be the end of Town Meetings.

Deborah Wright suggested the Town and Village consider an Information Meeting held a month earlier than election day, so Articles could be discussed before the ballots were printed.

North agreed that Management should make decisions to foster greater participation.

Berrick said he had lived here for 31 years, but usually missed Town Meetings because he worked out of town. He appreciated the technology available to participate and “weigh in on the future of our community.”

Election results will be announced at the Selectboard’s Organizational Meeting on March 1.

locally,” and that, “The rest comes from the Vermont State Education Fund.” He also pointed to the fact that, while the school budget does approach $33 million, since only a fraction of that is raised from resident taxes, the school budget actually requires $2 million less than the Town budget.

Of the 28 articles, Article 11 was the only article that prompted questions from the residents in attendance. Two residents questioned whether the taxes for the School budget would go down this year, to which Schoolboard members acknowledged that, depending on statistical reappraisal results, the tax rate is expected to go down 1.4 to 12.6 cents.

Representatives from several of the other organizations that stand to receive funding from the articles were in attendance, but no questions were asked of them.

Voting for the Springfield Town Meeting took place in the Riverside Middle School Gym on Tuesday, March 1 by Australian ballot. Voting results will be published next week, and posted online as soon as we receive them.

Chester Horse Show

Here's a July 1937 newspaper clipping regarding the horse show at Buttonwood Farm:

With approximately 4,500 persons in attendance throughout the day and evening, the Chester American Legion Horse Show, which was held all day Monday, took on the appearance of a miniature World's Fair, according to Paul Adams, who was in charge of the arrangements. The number of tickets sold indicated that 2,500 were present during the day and 2,000 at night.

The event started out to be purely a horse show but the great number of farm folk who were expected to attend decided the program committee to include other events that would be of interest. So a draft horse class of 11 pairs was entered and judged for ability to do farm work. The prizes for this class were divided as follows: teamster control won by Alfred Chickering of Westmoreland for form; W.H. Bowler of Chester, best pair under 3,000 pounds and second in the free-for-all weight pull; first in the free-for-all was Mr. Goodrich of Winchester, N.H.

Eleven pairs of oxen from several distant points added to the entertainment, as did exhibits of auto trailers, electric wire fencing, and a track meet under the supervision of Harold Potter. A cup was awarded in this event.

Many horses entered

In the horse show there were 45 entries representing the riding clubs of Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts, with 25 members of the Montpelier club present to lend their assistance. The judges for the event were Mr. and Mrs. P.R. Burrows, Newmarket, N.H., Judge Dean Davis, Barre, Vt., and Mr. Caswell of Indiana. Mr. Caswell had with him a registered Arabian stallion, which he keeps at the Upwey Farms in South Woodstock. The animal drew a lot of praise for the many tricks he performed at the command of his master. He was equipped with complete Arabian regalia.

Throughout the day, 20 dogs were engaged in a raccoon drag, which was completed in eight heats. A display of fireworks in the evening drew 1,500 cars.

The events in the horse-show included a pony class for children, an open jumping contest at three and one-half feet, an egg and spoon race in which the riders carried an egg in a spoon, which entertained the audience with its comedy; at 1 p.m., a cavalcade of all animals entered in the show took place around the ring and the people had a good opportunity to observe the many entrants.

Following this there was a class for horses under 15-2 hands, hoop-spearing contest, and a handy-hunter class for jumpers.

Then came the class for horses over 15-2 hands, a parent-child class, and a saddle-pair class. An outside hunt of 3-4 mile over nearby hills was held in full view of the grandstand so that all were able to see the handling of the event.

The crowd was further entertained by a musical chair contest in which the contestants rode to the time of music and when the music stopped they had to dismount and find a chair.

There was one less than the number of riders and this proved very amusing.

Pair jumping, a knockdown-and-out jumping contest at three feet nine inches, a road hack trial, and a balloon race completed the program. A credible showing was also made by the team of horses from the Rockingham Town Farm.

From 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. the band of Claremont, N.H. Veterans of Foreign Wars entertained with a concert.

23 Ride to Grafton

On Sunday morning, a group of 23 left Chester by horse and went over the old Grafton Stage road through Houghtonville to the Grafton State Park where they were served with steak dinners. Five others joined the party for the trip back, which was made through Grafton and Chester Hill to Chester. Among those to make the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Switzer and Town Manager Morton Downing and family of Bellows Falls, and Sheppard Raymond of Greenfield, Mass., and Frank Adams of Boston, who brought their horses in special two-wheel trailers. From Bellows Falls also were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spencer and son.

All of those connected with the trip or horse-show were enthusiastic in their praise of the way Paul Adams handled the arrangements and hopes were expressed that more interest would be shown locally in horses and riding.

Whiting Library to host solar energy roundtable —

CHESTER, Vt. – Curious about solar energy and if it might be a good idea for your home? Whiting Library will present a virtual roundtable discussion via Zoom on residential solar energy on March 8, from 7-8:30 p.m. If you're interested in renewable energy, come listen, learn, and ask questions.

This roundtable offers the opportunity to better understand solar technology and will provide useful information for those considering converting to, or expanding, home solar systems. Topics will include the efficiency of solar energy in southern Vermont, incentives to reduce costs, battery storage, and the siting of solar arrays. The roundtable discussion will include representatives from Green Mountain Solar, Net Zero Renewable Resources, and SunCommon. Chester resident and retired solar industry executive Tim Roper will moderate the discussion.

This free informational event is open to everyone, and will include time for your questions to industry experts. Attendees are encouraged to register in advance by calling 802-875-2277 or emailing whiteninglibrary1@gmail.com. All registrants will receive a reminder email prior to the event.

OLLI programming to resume March 8

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – Kurt Valenta will present the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute program, "The Otter: Creature of Two Habitats," on Tuesday, March 8 at 2 p.m. at the Nolin Murray Center next to St. Mary's Church on Pleasant Street in Springfield, Vt.

OLLI is pleased to begin in-person programs once again. The University of Vermont requires masks for their indoor events. The first two programs of the semester were postponed due to Covid concerns, but we feel confident that we can provide a safe event for this March 8 program. The first two programs will be rescheduled for later in the spring. There is still time to register for the complete semester at www.learn.uvm.edu/olli/springfield.

Valenta is one of the group's favorite presenters. He brings an enthusiastic enjoyment of the natural world. As a naturalist and educator he runs a nature studies program out of Enosburg Falls, Vt.

The otter is sleek, playful with boundless energy, and is comfortable on land as well as in water, in summer as well as in the cold of a frozen winter. Valenta will examine what enables this fun-loving river dweller to be so versatile, and enjoy, with great abandon, his surroundings.

This program is co-sponsored by the Ascutney Mountain Audubon Society.

The next program on March 22 will be "Gershwin, By George!" presented by music historian Robert Wyatt.

Pre-registration is highly recommended. However, if you arrive without having registered, we will not turn you away. We will hand you a form and an addressed envelope to send in payment after the program.

There is a Membership Series Special Fee. Non-members are welcome and encouraged to attend individual programs for a single program fee.

Registration can be done online by going to www.learn.uvm.edu/olli/springfield.

For registration assistance, please call 802-656-5817.

Due to the current situation of Covid-19, the University of Vermont expects all participants at UVM sponsored non-credit events, including OLLI, to be vaccinated. Masks are required to be worn indoors.

Dear Editor,

Many of us are feeling relief that Omicron's surge has taken a steep nosedive. The possibility of a return to something more like 'normal' looks promising. It's great to be able to feel more comfortable and a bit safer than we did a month ago. However, for a significant number of people and businesses in our communities, the disruption of the last two years has been rough. Despite $3.56 billion flowing into Vermont to support individuals, families, businesses, state and municipal functionality – recovery for many continues to be slow.

Covid's waves of Delta and Omicron reinforced our reluctance to socialize and has devastated our hospitality, special event, and creative sectors and our congregant centers of community life. Our senior centers, childcare centers, fitness and yoga studios, gyms, churches, and synagogues – in addition to our restaurants, theaters, museums, art galleries, lodging establishments, and special events businesses (florists, tent companies, photographers, caterers), have all struggled trying to recover. Many businesses in other sectors have rebounded and are doing very well, which is wonderful.

In addition, the Covid refugees from urban areas, our need to house the homeless during Covid, and the removal of rental units for use as Short Term Rentals, have put pressure on our already tight housing market. Our vacancy rate in many areas is below 1%, making it almost impossible to find housing – equally challenging for those who've been offered a job here, those who need to move, or those who've been evicted.

And, we still have people in the workforce having to miss work for Covid related reasons – not unemployed people – but people whose childcare has shut down, or their kids have had to stay home, or a family member got ill, or they got ill. Wages continue to be lost because of Covid. This experience of wage loss as a result of Covid starkly illustrates the need for a Paid Family Medical Leave Program. We are exploring how to move forward with this invaluable safety net so many other states have established.

To address these ongoing needs: economic recovery, housing, and wage replacement, the Senate Economic Development Committee is working on two omnibus bills which we hope will help. We expect to finish the work on them in the next two weeks. The first, an Economic Development bill, includes a range of measures designed to support the continued recovery of our hardest hit business sectors. We anticipate that direct financial support will be made available through a new forgivable loan program administered by the Vermont Economic Development Authority, which will provide the kind of individual attention many of these businesses need. Emerging out of Covid there is an energy we want to harness, as witnessed in the over-subscribed Capital Investment Program, which invests in projects with regional impact. We plan on investing more in cleaning up our brownfields, those contaminated sites, which, if mitigated will enable new development. We expect to build on our Relocating Worker incentives, and to extend our Tax Increment Finance program and offer a simpler, mini-scale TIF for smaller towns, to increase our very successful Downtown Tax Credit Program and to support our Creative Economy, so important to the vibrancy of our communities.

Our Housing initiatives

are in two bills, the first of which is now in the House for consideration. That bill, S.210, includes significant steps forward to improve the health and safety of our rental housing in Vermont. It invests significantly more in the very successful Vermont Rental Housing Incentive Program, which offers landlords the opportunity to renovate vacant, blighted, and non-code compliant housing stock with a matching grant program. It brings new housing units back on-line faster and for a fraction of the cost of a new unit.

The primary focus of our second bill (the Omnibus Housing bill) is incenting housing projects which increase density in our downtowns and village centers and expanding access to safe and affordable housing. It includes: enhanced opportunities and support for Accessory Dwelling Units, reduces barriers for towns to add Neighborhood Development Areas, streamlines the permitting process, creates a first generation home ownership program, supports the conversion of some commercial properties for residential use, extends our By-Law Modernization program, creates a Large Employer Housing Partnership program designed to encourage partnerships which would result in building more workforce housing, and proposes a Manufactured Home grant program to improve mobile home parks, remove abandoned mobile homes and repair and renovate existing ones.

I appreciate hearing from you. I can be reached by email: aclarkson@leg.state.vt.us or by phone at 802-457-4627. ## Springfield Rotary scholarship raffle winner —

SPRINGFIELD, Vt.—Springfield Rotary Club member Marty Cohn was the winner of the $5,000 Scholarship Raffle conducted by the club. The drawing was held at Crown Point Country Club on Feb. 16.

For 70 years, the Springfield Rotary Club has helped Springfield High School students pursue higher education with their annual scholarship program in addition to other donations to organizations in the community. Throughout that time, the funds for these efforts were generated from the club's annual Penny Sale.

Since the pandemic forced the cancellation of the Penny Sale, the Springfield Rotary Club created a $5,000 Scholarship Raffle to replicate the grand prize drawing of the annual Penny Sale.

According to Club President Jim Fog, the Springfield Rotary Club has raised close to $600,000 since the inception of the Penny Sale and donated over $200,000 in scholarships.

Fog said, "This year, Rotary club members sold raffle tickets and raised enough money to enable us to award two $2,000 scholarships to graduating Springfield, Vt. High School students."

The application for the scholarship can be obtained from the high school guidance department.

Dear Editor,

The Springfield Rotary Club would like to thank the following sponsors who helped make our scholarship raffle a success. We raised enough money to fund our scholarships to graduating seniors this year, and other community projects.

Dear Editor,

This is a poem I wrote about Vermont.

"The Sun In Vermont"

The sun is shining
So bright and the Sky is so blue
And the river its banks
Are so full to and Montpelier is such A beautiful sunny warm place
And I'm feeling the heat in

This beautiful hot place
And Vermont is the place
To be as the sun shines
So brightly on me and
I'm so happy I'm
In Vermont today
And I hope and pray
I get to see the warm sun
Shining in beautiful Vermont
For one more day.

Sincerely,
David P. Carroll
Ludlow, Vt.

Douglas Raymond Reed Jr.,
1970-2022

BALTIMORE, Vt. – Douglas “Dougie” Raymond Reed Jr., 51, of Baltimore, Vt., died suddenly in a logging accident Feb. 24, 2022.

Born March 29, 1970 to Douglas and Nancy Reed of Perkinsville, Vt., he grew up attending Weathersfield Schools and graduating Springfield High School.

At the age of 11, Dougie went to work for Jack Fuller on his farm for .25 cents an hour. Dougie worked until he saved up enough money to buy each of his sisters a brand new cabbage patch doll (which were all the rage at that time). From there he worked at Bear Paw wood shop, Newsbank/Readex, and for his good friend Gregg Chico, among numerous other jobs. He was a jack-of-all-trades.

After a logging accident that almost took his life 13 years ago, Dougie opened his own business. Mountain and Valley Excavating was a proud accomplishment for Dougie and you never heard him complain about the toll this undertaking took on him physically.

To say Dougie was a generous man would be an understatement. He produced all the wood for SECVA as well as donated many cords of wood for fundraisers for area schools and programs. His generosity knew no bounds. When a neighbor down the road had a heart attack, Dougie packed up his kids they delivered and stacked wood for that man to be sure he was warm, no money needed.

He was a single father to Dillin and Morgan. They were the light of his light of his life. He taught them to be caring and loving people. He was an awesome Father, Brother, Uncle, Friend and Son. He was always there when we needed him no matter what. You could always count on him.

He is survived by his children, Dillin Reed (Sam), and Morgan Reed; Parents, Nancy and Doug Reed; Sisters, Kathy-Jo Merlau, and Melissa Bates (Adam); Nephews, Matthew Reed (Sophie), Michael Reed, Cooper Merlau, and Leighton Reed; Aunts, Beth Gould, Patti Gould, Marianne Jones (Ralph), and Debra Reed; Uncles, Kevin Gould (Vicki), Frank Gould III (Karen), Dean Decell, Donald Reed II (Shirley), and many cousins. And his very special Great nephew, Jeremy Reed.

Preceded in death by his grandparents Frank and Marion Gould, Donald and Doris Reed Spafford, Bert Spafford, Uncle Paul Gould, Aunt Laurie Decell and several cousins.

Visiting hours will be held on Saturday, March 5, 2022 from 2–4 p.m. at the Davis Memorial Chapel in Springfield, Vt.

Theresa Jean Sullivan,
1926-2022

ELIZABETH TOWN, Pa. – Theresa Jean Sullivan (Callahan) passed peacefully in Elizabethtown, Pa. on Feb. 9, 2022, surrounded by her loving family.

Known to friends and family as Jean, she was born in Greenfield, Mass. on April 30, 1926, and lived a life of service to others. Starting at an early age, Jean’s service began with helping her parents with their restaurant and guest cabins. Later, she went on to nursing at Mercy Hospital in Springfield, Mass. and to providing seniors with Meals on Wheels.

Most important to Jean was raising three daughters. Her family was the light of her life, and the love she shared will provide wonderful memories that will always be held close. She participated in the Nurses’ Health Study (Harvard Medical School), the first national study to focus specifically on women’s health. She continued to participate in the study up until age 95.

Jean was a devout member of the Catholic Church where she also shared her gift of service to others. Additionally, she hosted numerous exchange students from various countries, who became like family.

Jean was preceded in death by her husband Paul Joseph Sullivan. Their 63 years of marriage was an inspiration to all the family.

Surviving Theresa are her daughters and spouses Lynn Browell (John Nash, Elizabethtown, Pa.), Kerry Lambert (Michael, Charlestown, S.C.), and Laurie Cloud (Michael, Chester, Vt.) as well as 7 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren, and 2 great-great-grandchildren.

Jean, affectionately known as “GG” by her great-grandchildren, will live forever in our hearts.

Richard P. Szidik, 1947-2022

CHESTER, Vt. – Richard Paul Szidik, age 74, passed away peacefully on Friday, Feb. 18, 2022 in the loving care of daughter Chelsea Chase, son Logan Szidik, and son-in-law Jacob Chase. He was born on April 12, 1947 in Hartford, Conn. to his late mother, Teresa Kulcsar (Szidik). He was raised by his mother and grandfather, Paul Szidik.

He served in the United States Army in Vietnam, serving from 1967 until 1969 and serving with the Army Reserves until 1973.

Richard retired from Cold River Materials as a Heavy Equipment Mechanic.

Richard enjoyed vegetable and flower gardening, swimming, and spending time outside in the summer. He enjoyed motorcycles, muscle cars, guns, and target shooting. He had great taste in music and loved blues-based rock and roll. He also enjoyed spending time with his family. Richard was best known for the stories he would tell of his life.

He is survived by son Logan Szidik, daughter Chelsea Chase, and son-in-law Jacob Chase, daughter Jessica Mcabee, and daughter April Szidik; Sisters Diane Kulcsar, and Sandee Gabriele (Kulcsar), brother David Kulcsar; ten grandchildren, Hailey Mcabee, Matthew Pilkerton, Phoebe Keffer, Zachary Keffer, Selene Ordiway, Isabella Szidik, Autumn Katsouros, Addison Chase, Lincoln Chase and Eleanor Chase; four great-grandchildren, Kaelyn Williams, Jaiden Williams, Hazael Williams, and Chozen Williams. He is also survived by several nieces, nephews, and cousins.

He was predeceased by one sister, Paula Kulcsar, on May 30, 1990.

Calling hours were held at Davis Memorial Chapel in Springfield on Saturday, Feb 26.

A graveside service will be held at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Chester American Legion Post 67 at P.O. Box 806 Chester, VT 05143.

CALENDAR

Vermont boys close out regular season

REGION – It was a tough night for local boys basketball teams on Thursday, Feb. 24 before tournament pairings were announced in Vermont.

The Springfield Cosmos fell at Otter Valley, 62-82, in a game much closer than the final score would indicate. Windsor traveled to Rutland, and Mount St. Joseph Academy sent them home with a 75-46 loss. Evan Chadwick's Bellows Falls team lost to the only undefeated team in the state, as Rivendell grabbed a 56-48 win.

The bright spot on Thursday, Feb. 24, was the Green Mountain win over Mill River on the road, 64-39.

The Otter Valley boys' basketball team put away rival Springfield with lights-out shooting from the charity stripe, winning 85-62, Thursday night.

The Otters led by just 10 points with three minutes to go, but free throw shooting iced the game. Otter Valley was 20-for-24 at the line in the fourth.

Elijah Tucker-Bryant led the Otters with 32 points, followed by 20 from Hayden Bernhardt, and 13 from Dylan Stevens-Clark and Owen Thomas.

Tanner Gintof led Springfield with 22 points and Luke Stocker had 17.

Otter Valley wrapped up the regular season 4-16 and the Cosmos finished at 1-19.

The Mill River boys' basketball team got off to a slow start and fell to Green Mountain 64-39, Thursday night at Dean Houghton Gymnasium.

The Minutemen scored only two points in the second, allowing the Chieftains to jump up early.

Everett Mosher led Green Mountain with 13 points, while Eben Mosher, Austin Kubisek, and Reid Hryckiewicz had 10 a piece. Ryan Smith led Mill River with 19 points.

In Division III, Bellows Falls currently sits in the fifth spot with a 15-5 record. Green Mountain ends with a solid 12-7, record good for the 8th spot, while Harry Ladue's Yellow Jackets finish just behind Green Mountain with an 8-11 mark in the 9th position.

The Cosmos ended up 1-18 in a very competitive Division II group with seven teams having double digit wins.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – The Springfield Community Players are hosting their first auditions of the 2022 season on March 12 and 13 at the Calvary Baptist Church, 156 Main Street, Springfield, Vt. This season, the Springfield Community Players will be offering four shows to the community, and they are looking for new and old talent to join the organization. Shows this season will range from comedy, to musicals, to a resurgence of a longtime dormant show, “Godspell.” Shows for this upcoming season include: “Puffs” or “Seven increasingly Eventful Years at a Certain School for Magic and Magic” directed by Gregory Villonw, “Gypsy” directed by Sara Vitale with musical direction by Parker Eastman, “Two on the Aisle, Three in the Van” directed by Todd Hutchinson, and “Godspell” directed by Donald Gray. In addition to this extraordinary lineup, Springfield Community Players will be hosting a series of concerts under the direction of Parker Eastman. At this time, auditions will be held for the first two shows of the season only, “Puffs” and “Gypsy.” Auditions for the comedy, “Puffs” will be held from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on both days and auditions for “Gypsy” from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. both days. If you are unable to attend either day, please reach out to director Sara at Sara@LiIprod.com to coordinate a makeup time for “Gypsy,” or to director Greg at gville88@gmail.com for “Puffs” so that they can find an alternative time. For “Puffs,” please be prepared to do a cold read from the script. For “Gypsy,” please be prepared to read from the script, sing a song of your choosing – bring piano music if you like, and move a bit to a piece of music we will provide. If there are any questions about auditions, upcoming shows, or becoming a part of the Springfield Community Players, please email springfieldcommunityplayers@gmail.com.

Edgar May offers free Springfield Family Swim

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – Starting March 5, the Edgar May Health and Recreation Center will offer Springfield residents the opportunity to come for a free swim every Saturday, from 1-3 p.m. Participants may need to show proof of Springfield residency. The Springfield Family Swim originally launched in 2018 as a program of the Springfield Promise Community grant to provide residents with the opportunity to get active and connect with their community. After a two-year hiatus due to Covid-19, the Edgar May is excited to bring this popular program back to the Springfield community. On Saturdays from 1-3 p.m., Springfield families can come swim in our competition-sized swimming pool as well as our beach-entry wading pool. Although it might still be cold and snowy outside, our pools are set to 83 degrees for a comfortable swimming experience. There will be two lifeguards on duty for the duration of the free swim. This free program will continue to run as long as there is interest from the community.

This year, the Edgar May Health and Recreation Center is celebrating our 15th anniversary. Our namesake, Edgar May, was especially passionate about starting a recreation center in Springfield that provided recreational opportunities for children and families in the community. Fifteen years later, we are proud to continue to offer programming and resources to live a healthy and active lifestyle to residents of all ages. For more information, call 802-885-2568, email info@edgarmay.org, or visit www.edgarmay.org.

Weston Pop-Up University –

WESTON, Vt. – After successful seasons in the past two years, Weston Pop-Up University returns in March with a new list of fun and informative courses. The ten-class schedule invites you to cook with the chef from The Hub at Weston, learn some Broadway dance steps, try some cartooning with a local artist, taste some wine with a local restaurateur, and more. The classes are led by local people who have expertise in an amazing array of areas – from vegetable gardening to artificial intelligence to how stage lighting works. “This is our version of March Madness, a great chance to go online, learn new things, and have some fun together,” said Deb Granquist, one of the organizers of Weston Pop-Up University. “We had an amazing turnout last year and look forward to a whole new lineup of fabulous courses this year. Hope to see you on Zoom!” Last year, Weston Pop-Up University successfully turned to an online platform, and though courses will be on Zoom again this year, they’ll be a lively and informative hour.

“It’s a ‘pop-up’ because it emerges in the month of March and goes away in April,” said Granquist. “It’s called a ‘University,’ but it’s really less formal – just a way to offer entertainment and learning opportunities to the people of our community through a month of programs led by local folks.” Everyone is invited to participate and classes are free. Registration is required; some of the classes are limited in size. You can see the whole lineup of classes and register at www.westonpop-upuniversity.org.

Walpole Players present Radio Follies

WALPOLE, N.H. – If you’ve been cooped up with Cabin Fever, the Walpole Players have the perfect remedy. After a two-year hiatus, the Cabin Fever Radio Follies will be back on March 12, 2022 in their Helen Miller Theater at the Walpole Town Hall. Be prepared for an evening of intrigue, laughs, and a trip to the Wild Wild West. You’ll recognize the familiar voices of Fibber McGee and Molly, Bob and Ray, Jack Benny, and make the acquaintance of Doc Savage and his not-so-able assistants. The audience will be seated at tables in a dinner theater setting. Please plan to bring your own food and drink to enjoy before and during the show (don’t forget to bring your plates and utensils). We’d like to extend a big thank you to Mascoma Bank in Walpole, where tickets can be purchased in advance. Tickets can also be bought at the door. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and the show starts at 7 p.m. Check out the website at www.TheWalpolePlayers.org, the Facebook page, or call 603-345-0230 with questions. For the safety of our audience members, actors, and our community at large, everyone in attendance will be required to wear a mask upon entering the building. Once you are seated at your table, you may remove your mask, but your mask must be worn if you leave your seat at any time for any reason. We also request that audience members be vaccinated. We will not be requiring proof of vaccination status, but we will be checking temperatures at the door. Anyone with a temperature of 100.4°F or higher will be asked to leave, and a full refund will be given.
