Attendees take notice at Fairy House Festival

BY PAULA BENSON
The Vermont Journal

GRAFTON, Vt. – Crisp temperatures and intermittently sunny skies created an ideal environment to get outside and “celebrate the magic of nature and imagination” at the annual Fairy House Festival in Grafton, Vt. on Sept. 25 and 26, 2022.

Sponsored by the Nature Museum, this was the festival’s fourteenth year. An annual fundraiser that attracts visitors from all over Vermont and across the Northeast, the festival’s fame has grown through social media.

There were many activities for kids including an arts and crafts tent and face painting booths. Excited children of all ages ran through a steady stream of bubbles that poured out of a second story window in the Nature Museum, trying to capture them in their hands.

The festival’s Fairy Queen, Laurie Danforth, talked about the origin and significance of the event, and the tradition of building fairy houses, saying, “It’s kind of a sneaky way to get people to notice the small stuff in nature. Everyone hikes and expects to see big things, like a bear or something. But this sort of tricks us into stopping, taking a moment, and looking at the smaller details of our environment.”

The Nature Museum’s philosophy is that when you build a fairy house using natural materials, you are “opening a portal to the incredible world around us through deep observation of nature’s gifts.” The hand-crafted fairy houses on display were whimsical dwellings, mini art installations created from elements like bark, twigs, berries, stones, mushrooms, and feathers.

The Fairy House Trail curved through the meadow and into the woods edge above Townshend Road. Signs directed attendees to walk the trail, and then to vote on their favorites.

All proceeds from the sold-out festival will go toward supporting the community through “natural science programs in schools and libraries, wilderness days for tweens, wild foods workshops, summer camps for kids, mushroom talks, birding walks, and so much more.”

The 2022 Terrier Hall of Fame Ceremony

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. – On Friday, Oct. 7, 2022 at 7 p.m., the Terrier Hall of Fame Induction Ceremony will take place at the American Legion in Bellows Falls, Vt. Seating is limited and donations appreciated. Refreshments will be served.

Nominations for Hall of Fame Terriers were conducted in May of this year. The selected inductees will be Sue Stack, Thelma and John Bronk, and Bill Lock-erby.

Community members enjoy time with Kurn Hattin Kids

WESTMINSTER, Vt. – A select group of community members, who have “adopted a cottage” at Kurn Hattin Homes, enjoy a special gathering every year. After a hiatus due to the pandemic, the annual sponsor dinner and cottage visits were held on Sept. 15, 2022. The program includes invitations to area businesses, clubs, and individuals, to not only support the children’s cottage residences, but also, and most importantly, visit and spend time with and get to know the children. The program has been very successful, and there is a waiting list to join. Attending this year’s event were individuals from Cota & Cota, Keene Elm-City Rotary, Mascoma Bank, Dave & Lisa Therrien, Savings Bank of Walpole, and Streeter Contractors, LLC.

Prior to what is always a delicious dinner at Kurn Hattin Homes, the guests and children engaged in get-to-know-you activities, followed by dessert and fun time at the cottages. Children told stories, danced, and even had the guests playing outdoors in pushcarts.

Since 1894, Kurn Hattin Homes for Children has helped thousands of children and their families by offering a safe home and quality education in a nurturing environment. Kurn Hattin transforms the lives of children and their families forever. Learn more at www.kurn-hattin.org.

Design for Depot Street Bridge project

BY BETSY THURSTON
The Shopper

ROCKINGHAM, Vt. – On Tuesday, Sept. 20, 2022, at the Rockingham Selectboard meeting, Vanasse Hangen Brustlin (VHB), a civil engineering company based out of South Burlington, presented the preliminary final design of the Depot Street Bridge project.

Presiding were VHB Project Engineers Kelly Barry and Ryan Forbes, Project Manager Scott Burbank, Community Outreach Jim Gish, Vermont Agency of Transportation (VTrans) Project Manager Bob Klinefelter, and Historic Preservation Specialist Kyle Obenhauer.

Barry shared the project design which included plans for buried utilities. She explained that in order to accommodate underground utilities, pad-mounted transformers will be installed and necessary service connections will be added to buildings along Canal Street. Canal Street’s one-way lane will be extended to the intersection at the north.

The new pedestrian bridge will be located south of the current Depot Street Bridge. She said that it’s a prefabricated truss with a concrete deck that arrives “basically built, and they pop it in place.”

The sewer and water lines will be moved from the existing bridge to the pedestrian bridge.

The plan includes updated sidewalks, pause places, and additional parallel parking on Canal Street. A redesigned parking lot offers green space and gravel wetlands for stormwater mitigation. She said currently there are 79 parking spots, the new layout has 75. Street lighting would be added where necessary, and Barry said they would mimic the black ornamental lamp posts to the best of their ability.

She referred to the Island Park bicentennial capsule buried in 1976. Barry said plans were in place to mitigate and return the capsule so that it can be dug up as intended in 2076.

Construction begins with buried utilities in 2025, the vehicular bridge in 2026, and the pedestrian bridge in late 2026 to 2027. The parking lot and demolition of the existing bridge is scheduled for 2027.

The overall cost of this project is $11,649,901.11. The Town of Rockingham’s share is $684,514.16.

Board member Rick Cowan asked what was included in the $1.5 million right-of-way costs. Klinefelter said this was a conservative estimate on the loss of generating costs for Great River Hydro during the estimated two-month shutdown of the canal for demolition of the bridge.

Cowan also asked if it would take the full two months. Klinefelter explained that the challenge was that the majority of the arch was underwater. He said, “Obviously we will do everything we can to limit how long the dam needs to be out of service.”

Cowan said that GRH’s FERC relicensing is underway and understood there was maintenance planned.

Klinefelter said he hoped the $1.5 million was a worst case scenario, but it included a budgeted 4-hour scarcity event at $30,000/hour.

Cole said GRH is concerned about compromising the integrity of the canal wall. Barry explained the plan was to cast a new wall behind the existing one. Klinefelter said, “If there’s an opportunity [we will] coordinate the dewatering with GRH [and] significantly reduce both right of way costs and cost

Golec asked about how the state owns the land and why the town was responsible for clean-up. Development Director Gary Fox explained the town had a continued ten-year lease indicating town responsibility for everything. He said depending on end use, if the town signed a 99 year lease with the State, it was possible the town could secure funding. Fox said timing-wise, annual EPA grants are due in October.

Board member Elijah Zimmer was “pleased with the pedestrian bridge design... [which] mimics the arch appearance and looks a lot like the [original] steel truss” and asked about the finish. Klinefelter said they recommended galvanizing for durability and recommended metalized steel with zinc coating on the vehicular bridge.

Trustee Wade Masure asked about sidewalks on the vehicular bridge. Klinefelter said there were 4-foot wide shoulders. Masure said, “Because you know people are going to walk across.”

Resident Ellen Howard asked if the pedestrian bridge would be open at all times. Klinefelter said not during demolition, but a traffic control plan for pedestrians would be in effect.

She asked about the sufficient turning radius for tractor trailer trucks at both intersections. Barry said the concern was turning right from the one-way Canal St. onto the bridge. Forbes said the intersection from the tracks into the lot did not give major concerns and Barry said the auto-turn program was conservative.

The selectboard will begin budget discussions, meeting on the first and third Tuesdays in October in the Lower Theater of the Bellows Falls Opera House at 6 p.m.

Saxtons River discusses 37 Main Street property

SAXTONS RIVER, Vt. – The Saxtons River Village Trustees will hold a meeting to determine new uses for 37 Main St., Saxtons River, Vt. formerly The Dish restaurant. The UMass Consulting Team will lead the first event on Thursday, Sept. 29 at 6:30 p.m. at Main Street Arts in Saxtons River. Food and drink will be offered at 6 p.m. The team will also be on hand to hear local opinions on Saturday, Oct. 1 in front of the Saxtons River Post Office and the Village Market from 9 a.m. – 12 p.m. 37 Main Street has been a photography studio, automobile repair garage, hardware store, and restaurant before Main Street Arts used it to store their stage property. Two brownfield studies and an engineering report have determined that the site should be limited to non-residential use. Given the cost to rehabilitate the structure, demolition seems inevitable. The Town of Rockingham applied for the municipal planning grant which funds the property project.

John Ledyard and Capt. Cook

From Lyman Hayes' 1929 book, "The Connecticut River Valley."

To think it all began here.

"NOTED WORLD TRAVELER – JOHN LEDYARD IN BELLOWS FALLS IN 1772"

About 30 rods north of the "Ledyard," or, Hanover and Norwich bridge, which is about 40 miles north of here, is a monument to one of the most novel and unique characters, who attended Dartmouth College in the early period of its existence. It is a plain slab of granite and records the following bit of history:

"John Ledyard, in 1772, a freshman of Dartmouth College, on this spot felled a giant pine, from which he made a canoe, and, in it, descended the river to Hartford, Conn. He was a traveler among the Indians, and associate of John Paul Jones, and an officer under Capt. Cook, traversing all oceans and penetrating all lands. He foresaw and foretold the riches of the Pacific coast and advantages of commerce with the Far East. When about to cross Africa, he died in Egypt at the age of 37. He too heard the voice crying in the wilderness. His was the Dartmouth spirit. Anno Domini 1907."

Ledyard went up to Hanover in 1772, driving up from Hartford in a sulk, the first ever seen in this vicinity. The same year, leaving his lessons, in which he was no mean scholar, he went down to the banks of the Connecticut river, cut down a tall pine, and, as tradition relates, hewed from it a canoe 50 feet long and three feet wide, in which he placed a huge bear skin, two books (an Ovid and a Greek testament), some provisions of Indian bread, and started on his journeys around the world.

Pierpont's national reader (1839) says in its detailed account of the trip that:

"He was deeply engaged in one of his two books when his canoe reached Bellows Falls, where he was suddenly roused by the noise of the waters," for which no dam or canal had been built there then. "The danger was imminent as the voyage was performed in the last part of April, when the river was raised by the melting of snow, and no boat could go down that fall without being dashed to pieces.

"With difficulty, he gained the shore and through the kind assistance of the people, who were amazed at the novelty of such a voyage, his canoe was drawn by oxen around the fall and committed again to the water below. One account says that the young student impressed the people so favorably while resting here that every attention of kindness was bestowed upon him. From that time 'til he arrived at his place of destination, we hear of no accident."

Of his arrival at Hartford, the same authority says:

"On a bright spring morning, just as the sun was rising, some people at Hartford, standing upon a high bank which overlooked a small river which empties into the Connecticut, espied at some distance an object of unusual appearance, moving slowly up the stream. All were attracted by the unusual sight and conjectured what it could be 'til its shape assumed the obvious form of a canoe, but by what impulse it was moved forward no one could determine. Something was seen in the stern, but apparently without life or motion. At length, the canoe touched the shore directly in front; a person sprang from the stern to a rock in the edge of the water, threw off a bearskin in which it had been enveloped, and behold John Ledyard, in the presence of his uncle and connections who were filled with wonder at the sudden apparition, for they had received no intelligence of his attention to leave Dartmouth, but supposed him still there, diligently fitting himself to be a missionary to the Indians."

He studied theology at Hartford for a short time, and then shipped for Gibraltar, where he enlisted in the British army, was released later, came to America, and next is found traveling on foot in England, both hungry and scant of raiment. He was with Capt. Cook as a corporal of marines on his third voyage around the world, and was with him when he was attacked and killed by the natives. He later published a book giving an account of the voyage.

He was characterized as "the famous Dartmouth traveler," achieving fame all over the world. When about to cross Africa, he died in Egypt, in the city of Cairo, in 1789."

This week's old saying: "Experience is what you get when you didn't get what you wanted."

OLLI presents program, "Mary Lou Williams"

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – Erik Nielsen, composer and music historian, will present the next Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) program, "Mary Lou Williams: Composer, Pianist, Pioneer" on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 2 p.m. at the Nolin Murray Center next to St. Mary's Church on Pleasant St. in Springfield.

Mary Lou Williams was one of the foremost jazz musicians of the 20th century. She is not as well known on the list of important Black American composers as Duke Ellington and Dizzy Gillespie, but she deserves to rank with all of them. Not only was she a great arranger, composer, and pianist, and highly respected amongst her peers in a jazz world largely dominated by men, but she created choral and large ensemble works that bridged jazz and concert music. She also mentored and encouraged young musicians to explore new paths. Her influence continues today through some of the contemporary Black women composers who are her heirs.

Sponsored by the University of Vermont, OLLI is run by local volunteer members and is geared mainly towards seniors who are 50 years of age and over who enjoy learning for the fun of it. Anyone who would be interested in this type of program, regardless of their age, is welcome.

Registration can be done online at www.learn.uvm.edu/olli/springfield. You may also register over the phone by calling 1-802-656-5817 during regular office hours Monday – Friday from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.

CHS hosts talk on the Columbian Exchange

CAVENDISH, Vt. – On Sunday, Oct. 9, at 2 p.m., the Cavendish Historical Society will host a talk on the Columbian Exchange at the CHS Museum, 1955 Main St., Cavendish, Vt.

It is estimated that 60% of the current world supply originated in the Americas. Thanks to the excellent farming skills of America's first people, crops like corn, potatoes, and sweet potatoes offset famine in China, Europe, and Africa. Below is an excerpt from "The Columbian Exchange," by Alfred W. Crosby:

"In 1491, the world was, in many of its aspects and characteristics, a minimum of two worlds – the New World, of the Americas, and the Old World, consisting of Eurasia and Africa. Columbus brought them together, and almost immediately and continually ever since, we have had an exchange of native plants, animals, and diseases moving back and forth across the oceans between the two worlds. A great deal of the economic, social, and political history of the world is involved in the exchange of living organisms between the two worlds."

Dear Editor,

My name is Millie Barry and I am a candidate for Windham County Assistant Judge.

Assistant judges are tasked with a position unique to Vermont to make sure the voice of the people is represented in the courts. The function of the assistant judge is limited to sitting beside the presiding judge in many family, civil, and relief from abuse matters to listen to the facts of the case.

Assistant judges are also tasked with the county business such as maintaining the historic Newfane County Courthouse and overseeing the budget and expense of the Windham County Sheriff's Department.

Employed as a Superior

Court clerk and for two years as the Windham County clerk, has provided me with knowledge of the court process while recording civil, family, and other court hearings. I am familiar with the judicial computer data base system, employees, presiding judges, court administrators, and security in both Windham County court houses. As clerk of Windham County, I have established professional relationships with clerks and treasurers in Windham County towns and have knowledge of the budget process, expenses associated with the courthouse, tax assessment to area County towns, and the sheriff's department.

I am an active hospice and community resource volunteer, life-long Vermont resident, involved in the Town of Westminster government, and a licensed nursing assistant.

I am running as an Independent candidate and ask for your support and vote in the general election on Nov. 8. The assistant judge continues to be an important link between courts and communities in Vermont today. I am committed to listening to facts and offering an unbiased opinion and to bring a new outlook to the position.

Sincerely,
Millie Barry
Bellows Falls, Vt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to ask for your vote on Nov. 8, 2022, for the position of Windham County Assistant Judge. Many of you know me for my service as a State Representative in the Vermont House of Representatives for the last 24 years. My goal has always been to listen to and serve the people of my district, and it has been the greatest honor to do so.

My experience serving in Montpelier has prepared me well for the duties of Assistant Judge. As the Chair of the House Agriculture and Forestry Committee for 14 years, I have been known as a good listener, a great note-taker, and someone who makes every attempt to be fair, inclusive, and compassionate. One of the primary duties of an Assistant Judge is to be a "finder of fact" in Family Court, as well as to work on the budget for Windham County. My past experience in chairing a committee, taking testimony, creating legislation, and working on state-level budgets, has prepared me well for these tasks.

The General Election is Nov. 8, 2022, but early ballots will be automatically mailed to all active voters in the next week or so. If you don't receive a ballot, and you believe you should have, please contact your Town Clerk.

While I am asking for your vote, I would also like to emphasize that there are two Windham County Assistant Judge positions up for election. I would encourage you to also vote for Lamont Barnett, who has served in the position for several years and has important experience that benefits the people of Windham County.

I would greatly appreciate your support on Nov. 8. If you have any questions, please contact me at partridge4sidejudge@gmail.com. Thanks in advance for your vote!

Sincerely,
Carolyn Partridge
Windham County, Vt.

Dear Editor,

Beware what you read. Voters in Vermont are being inundated by false information about Article 22. Here is what you need to know:

Article 22 has been in the works for four years now by Democrats in the Vermont House and Senate.

It was started by lawmakers who foresaw that Roe v. Wade might be overturned.

The language of Article 22 was carefully crafted by a team of lawyers to make it extremely sturdy legislation.

Article 22 changes no laws currently in place in Vermont.

Instead, Article 22 codifies the current law, meaning that if someone wanted to change those laws, they would have to change the constitution of Vermont, a multi year process.

Article 22 purposely does not mention women or abortion, instead striving to protect all people and all reproductive health care decisions (including women and abortion access)

Reproductive health care decisions should be made between an individual and their health care provider. Government has no role in these decisions. This proposed constitutional amendment protects Vermonters' abilities to make those decisions without governmental interference.

Your vote is important. Vermonters are being slammed with misinformation from anti-choice groups. These groups are designing their propaganda to be deceptive and misleading. Don't be fooled. Do your own research. And please vote.

The majority of Vermonters support the reproductive health laws already in place in Vermont. Article 22 simply strengthens the standing of those laws.

Sincerely,
Laura Casey
Putney, Vt.

Dear Editor,

Thank you Vermont Windsor District voters for your support in choosing us to be your three Democratic Senate candidates on the ballot this Nov. 8, 2022. We, Alison Clarkson, Dick McCormack, and Becca White, are running as a team, and we heartily endorse one another. We respect one another as individuals and as public servants, and we share our commitment to good public policy.

In the Vermont Senate, we will work together to defend reproductive liberty, to respond to the overarching existential challenge of Global Warming, the crises we face in affordable housing and childcare, and the long-term effects of the pandemic, such as inflation, the worker shortage, loss of school time, and continuing threats of infection. We support both public safety and gun safety, and we refuse to let inclusion and equity become "last year's issue."

If elected, all three of us will continue to work hard on these goals. We value working across party lines where possible, in a spirit of good will and fact-based reason, to best serve Vermont. Early voting starts Sept. 26, and we'd appreciate your support.

Sincerely,
Alison Clarkson (alison-clarkson.org)
Dick McCormack (facebook.com/McCormack-forSenate)
Becca White (beccawhite-vt.com)
Windsor District, Vt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing in support of Rep. Michelle Bos-Lun in her bid for re-election to a second term in the Statehouse, where she will represent Windham-3 District (Brookline, Westminster, and Rockingham). She has lived in Vermont since 2003, was elected to the House in 2020, and was subsequently assigned to the Committee on Corrections and Institutions.

Michelle's education contains graduating from High School in Taipei, Taiwan, earning her B.A. in sociology from Beloit College and earning her M.A. in International Education from SIT. Her work experience includes the knowledge and ability to traverse the intricacies of assisting the homeless, the restorative justice process, and being involved with the State Department's exchange of students. She has functioned as a staff member in the Governor's Institute for Current Issues. She is currently co-director of a non-profit Educational Change Foundation for two schools in India. Additionally, Michelle has served on the board of directors for Health Care and Rehabilitation Services.

I first interacted with Michelle when the house and senate redistricting concluded. She reached out to Brookline residents to express a willingness to meet and discuss issues which the citizens of Brookline may want to address. In that discussion, she demonstrated a knowledge of issues which are important to this district. She has also made time to knock on Brookline citizens' doors to introduce herself and learn the concerns of our citizens. She introduced herself at the poll in Brookline in August 2022. She has made herself available via meet and greet sessions within the district. A review of both her legislative record and the list of legislation which she has sponsored demonstrates a diverse interest, which touches the lives of we Vermonters. I hope that you will join me on Tuesday, Nov. 8, 2022 in voting for Michelle Bos-Lun to represent District-3.

Sincerely,
Stanley E. Noga Jr.
Brookline, Vt.

Dear Editor,

The Edgar May Health and Recreation Center would like to thank Jessica Martin and Springfield on the Move, Town of Springfield's Public Works Department, and RiseVT-Windsor County for their help in securing and installing new lighted crosswalk signs on Bridge Street in Springfield. These solar-powered signs will help ensure that Edgar May's nearly 300 daily visitors, many of whom are children and senior citizens, can cross the street safely and with better visibility to oncoming traffic.

Sincerely,
Christian Craig
Executive Director, Edgar May Health and Recreation Center

Dear Editor,

Writing has been a lifelong passion of mine. I find that placing active thought on paper is rewarding, rewarding in the sense that it provides the means for visualizing one's innermost aspirations. Our Founding Fathers would certainly agree. The Declaration of Independence is a prime example.

But writing is the ultimate holistic form of communication. Every word may be insignificant when unattended, but when sequenced, they tell wonderful stories. Not only that, the craftily written sentence paints a vivid picture for the recipient's understanding and enjoyment.

An example is in order: A Nor'easter was in its full raging fury as I stepped out onto the brine washed-deck. "This is no place to be right now," I mumbled to myself. Instinctively, I grabbed the stanchion, only to realize my folly. In my false sense of security, its corroded base had broken free! Horror flushed over my very being as deleterious waves of cold grey Atlantic finished the job and swept me overboard.

A writing instructor once told me, "Show, don't tell." And that is the basis of a good story. A picture painted with descriptive words and timely punctuation. Writing is a form of art that is accessible to all of us.

I challenge readers to renew vibrancy in future correspondence and place emphasis on the written word. We can continue this "conversation" if you are interested. How about it?

Sincerely,
Coppice Thicket

CHESTER SELECTBOARD
NOTICE OF REVIEW

PROPOSED SHORT-TERM RENTAL ORDINANCE

The Chester Selectboard will review a draft Ordinance to Regulate the Operation of Short-Term Rentals (hereafter, Short-Term Rental Ordinance) at its regular Selectboard meeting on Wednesday, October 5, 2022, at 6:30 p.m. at the Chester Town Hall at 556 Elm Street in Chester, Vermont. The draft Short-Term Rental Ordinance is recommended by the Planning Commission.

The purpose of the Short-Term Rental Ordinance is to require the annual registration of short-term rentals within the Town of Chester. A short-term rental registration would approve a dwelling unit capacity and the number of bedrooms to be rented, provide the short-term rental host's and property owner's contact information and the contact and educational materials required in 18 V.S.A. §§ 4467 and 4468, and include a confirmation of sufficient liability insurance to cover the use of the dwelling unit as a short-term rental. There would be a fee for annual registration and penalties for not registering or exceeding the approved dwelling unit capacity.

The requirements for adopting a municipal ordinance are governed by 24 V.S.A § 1972 where there is no public hearing process. This notice of review is provided in lieu of a public hearing.

The full text of the draft Short-Term Rental Ordinance may be viewed at the Town Clerk's office and on the home page of the Town's website at www.chestervt.gov.

A link to participate in this review via Zoom videoconference may be found on the Town of Chester website home page at www.chestervt.gov under Zoom Meetings: Select Board Meeting.

Dated at Chester, Vermont this 21st day of September 2022.

“Good Morning, Vietnam” at FOLA —

LUDLOW, Vt. – Continuing its special series of Robin Williams' great movies, Friends of the Ludlow Auditorium (FOLA) will present “Good Morning, Vietnam” on Saturday, Oct. 1 at 7 p.m. in the Heald Auditorium at Ludlow Town Hall.

Set in Saigon in 1965, during the Vietnam War, the film stars Robin Williams as a radio DJ on Armed Forces Radio Service, who proves hugely popular with the troops, but infuriates his superiors with what they call his “irreverent tendency.”

Most of Williams' performances portraying Cronauer's radio broadcasts were improvisation. The film is 100 on the American Film Institute's “100 Years...100 Laughs” list, containing 100 movies considered the funniest in American cinema.

Everyone is invited to attend the film. There is no entry fee; donations are appreciated. For information, call 802-855-8883 or visit www.fola.us.

Senior Solutions news

REGION – Autumn is a time full of activity. Fall Festivals in many towns and villages, gardens overflowing with produce, children heading back to school, the air getting crisp and cool. The days are still long enough to allow time to enjoy extended time outside with fewer annoying flying insects. Soon the glow of our fall foliage will be enhancing the landscape. It is the perfect month to celebrate National Senior Center Month. What are senior centers and what do they do? First, they are welcoming places where we can go to meet with friends and take part in an amazing variety of activities. Health and wellness programs like Tai Chi, gentle yoga, walking groups, and Bone Builder classes are just a few of the popular ways we can take part in helping ourselves remain strong and increase our balance. Many other services and programs are available. There are lectures and bus trips, needlework, and other crafts. Some can provide access to foot care, shopping excursions, and congregate lunches. All of these activities, plus many more, keep us up to date and connected to our communities. Check with your closest senior center and discover some of the interesting programs you may have been missing.
