LAS hosts first annual Golf Tournament

BY PAULA BENSON
The Vermont Journal

LUDLOW, Vt. – On Monday, Oct. 3, the Ludlow Ambulance Service (LAS) held their first annual golf tournament and fundraiser at the Fox Run Golf Club in Ludlow, Vt. “The event was very successful,” Chief Stephanie Grover was pleased to report. “We ended up having a great turnout.”

Kicking off at 10 a.m., a total of 14 teams consisting of 53 golfers participated in an 18-hole scramble, a putting competition, and a hole-in-one contest. The winning foursome from Okemo was made up of Steve Clark, Dave O’Neil, James Ribeiro, and Robin Tracy. The second-place team was Frank Heald, Bonnie Heald, Mary Jane Shomo, and Chuck Shomo. The winner of the closest to the pin contest was Dave O’Neil, and the fifty-fifty putting contest was won by Steve Clark.

The tournament wrapped up with lunch at Calcuttas and a raffle, with prizes donated by event sponsors and local businesses. Sponsorship was provided by William Ravis VT Properties, Mack Molding, Mary Davis Realty and Inside Edge Rentals, Engel and Volkers, Knight Tubs, Ludlow Insurance Agency, Brewfest Beverage, Lake Rescue Association, Wadsworth Design, Okemo, Main and Mountain, Bensons Chevrolet, LaValley’s Building Supply, and more. With final numbers still outstanding, Grover noted the tournament raised around $10,000, to be used for continuing education and certification programs for current emergency medical service providers. Grover said they are looking forward to next year’s tournament, which has been scheduled for Monday, Oct. 2, 2023.

Chester Selectboard suspends decision on rental ordinance

BY KYLE LAURITA-BONOMETTI
The Vermont Journal

CHESTER, Vt. – Chester, along with many other towns in Vermont, is in the process of addressing housing issues in their town by looking at Short-Term Rentals (STRs) and the potential adoption of a rental registry. At the selectboard meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 5, 2022, the Chester Planning Commission brought forward an ordinance that would require STR owners to register their property with the town, a registry that would allow for the accumulation and collection of data on STRs for the purpose of better understanding the housing market in the Town of Chester. While the selectboard did not make a final decision on the ordinance at the Oct. 5 meeting, many citizens stepped forward with opinions about the registry and town housing issues as a whole, and the selectboard came close to passing the ordinance then and there, before electing to postpone the decision until the ordinance was reviewed by an attorney.

Over two hours of the two-and-a-half hour meeting was dedicated to discussion surrounding the housing ordinance. Preston Bristow, Zoning Administrator for the Town of Chester, reviewed the ordinance section by section, taking questions and comments as he went. Several of the questions posed by citizens present at the meeting regarded what defined a “hosted” or “unhosted” STR. Bristow explained that, according to the bylaws, a STR is defined as a dwelling that is “rented for less than 30 days at a time and more than 14 days in any year.” A hosted STR is one that is located at the owner’s primary residence, whereas an unhosted STR is not. Several conversations branched out from this one, as to how the town might determine whether a homeowner is renting short-term, if the town might pass regulation limiting the number of STRs in Chester, and what right a town has to regulate what a homeowner does with their dwelling in the first place. Two years ago, the State of Vermont almost passed a law requiring a statewide rental registry, but it was vetoed by Gov. Scott. The decision on whether or not to adopt an ordinance was then passed down to the town level. To this point, Bristow pointed out that the registry is merely a collection of data and that, through the ordinance, “We’re just requiring that people do the things they’re supposed to be doing anyway.”

Chester, which has a total of 81 STRs in the town, has been subject to many of the same housing issues that are affecting towns all over Vermont. When it comes to adopting a registry, Bristow noted that Killington, of which Bristow was formally the zoning administrator, has over 700 STRs, and has since adopted a rental registry to address safety concerns, among other things.

While the ordinance came close to passing at the end of the meeting, the selectboard, after some deliberation, decided to postpone the decision to pass the ordinance until it was reviewed by an attorney.

Also on the agenda was whether to adopt the Amendment to Unified Development Bylaws, which was presented to the board at the Sept. 21 meeting, which passed unanimously.

The next Chester Selectboard meeting will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 19 at 6 p.m. in the Chester Town Hall.

CTES fundraises for local bus driver

CAVENDISH, Vt. – Robert (Bob) Williams has been a staple to the Cavendish and Proctorsville community all his life. Since he was born, he’s lived on the same road for 61 years. You know him as Bob. He’s a pond specialist by trade, operating under Williams Lake Dredging (a pond business which was started by his father, George Williams Sr.). Outside of that he’s been a plow man, a country store owner, a mechanic, and a snowmobile inspector among so many other things, and most recently, he’s been a bus driver for Cavendish Elementary School and Cavendish GM students. He loves to help others and is always there to lend a helping hand. He gets so much joy out of seeing the students every day, and he is very special to all the students he drives. Now Bob could use the community’s help.

In early September 2022, Bob’s family started to notice a drastic change in his behavior, seemingly overnight. His normally friendly, busy-bodied, and headstrong personality was suddenly withdrawn, forgetful, and unable to have a conversation. It was finally decided that he needed to see a doctor. Doctors discovered an orange-sized growth on his frontal lobe, and Bob had immediate surgery to have it removed and is now on a road to recovery.

As he is unable to work right now, his long-time partner Arlene is looking after him and they will need as much help as possible. Even a share of his GoFundMe, or a prayer would be greatly appreciated. All donations will go directly to Bob to help pay for bills (medical and otherwise) and help keep him and Arlene afloat.

Recently, our community came out in full force to support Bob and his family by holding a Spaghetti Dinner fundraiser and a 50/50 raffle, hosted by Cavendish Town Elementary School and the CTES Parent-Teacher Group. This event would not have been possible without the generosity of a few local restaurants, businesses, and community members. Killarneys, Murdocks, Fox Run Hospitality Group, Ludlow American Legion, Shaws, Outer Limits, and Singletons supplied all the food to make this a night to remember. There were also a number of individuals and families who made delicious desserts, drinks, and volunteered their time to cook and serve the meals to over 300 guests who joined us to donate to Bob’s recovery. At this dinner, we raised over $3,000. It is a great start, but as we all know, this will make only a small dent in the medical expenses and daily living expenses needed as Bob recovers.

Bob’s daughter, Prudence, has started a GoFundMe to help make ends meet for the family. Please consider making a donation. No donation is too small. Every dollar will help Bob to focus on his health. Visit the GoFundMe at www.bit.ly/3y70N9p.

Town of Londonderry launches housing needs study

LONDONDERRY, Vt. – The Town of Londonderry has commenced a housing study that will explore critical housing issues in the community and lead to the creation of a housing strategy. The study will include a detailed data analysis of demographic, economic, and housing trends in the town and surrounding region and will identify opportunities and develop strategies that address the unique challenges facing the community.

Patty Eisenhour, Housing Needs Assessment Committee Chair, commented, “Our goal in conducting this study is to help identify the community’s priority housing issues, and at the same time, estimate the number and types of housing units needed in Londonderry to meet our housing needs.”

Melissa Brown, the Londonderry Selectboard’s representative on the Committee, said,

“The final output of this effort is to develop a housing strategy that identifies actionable steps the town and its partners can take to address housing challenges.”

An online community housing survey will be available in October 2022 that will provide local residents and workers an opportunity to provide input for the housing study. Local and regional stakeholders will also be interviewed as part of the study to gain insights into the town’s housing needs.

Eisenhour further commented, “Understanding our demographics and conducting this survey are first steps necessary in adressing this key issue facing Londonderry. We hope residents will participate in the survey process as their input is critical to its success.”

The study is being led by a committee of local citizens and Town representatives, which was established in September 2022 as a steering committee for the study. Camoin Associates, a Saratoga Springs, N.Y.-based consulting firm, has been commissioned to conduct the study.

The study will run from September 2022 through February 2023 and is being funded with ARPA funds allocated by the Londonderry Selectboard.

CORRECTION

In the “Ludlow Selectboard postpones rental registry decision” article in the Oct. 5, 2022 edition of The Vermont Journal & The Shopper it has been noted that the number of registered voters in the Town of Ludlow is 1,600, not 750. The Vermont Journal & The Shopper would like to apologize for this inaccuracy.

Whiting Library grant to diversify collection

CHESTER, Vt. – Thanks to a grant from the Vermont Department of Libraries (VTLIB) as part of American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding by the Institute of Museum and Library Services, Whiting Library has received $1,715 to purchase books and supplies. With the distribution of these grant funds, VTLIB encouraged public libraries in Vermont to spend this second round of ARPA funding for libraries to focus on increasing diversity, equity, and inclusion in the libraries' collections.

A diverse collection means that the library contain content by and about a wide array of people and cultures to authentically reflect a variety of ideas, information, stories, and experiences. Whiting Library spent $500 on diverse books for the youth department, $500 for the adult collection, $415 for large print books, and the remaining $300 on craft supplies for the library's new Cricut machine. The Cricut machine was purchased with a summer programming grant from VTLIB and will be used to create take-and-make children's craft projects as well as new signage throughout the library.

The Library is excited to share this influx of new reading materials and inspired craft creations with the community and encourage everyone in Chester and Andover to sign up for a free library card. September is National Library Card Sign Up Month and what better time to get your free library card than right now when the Library has a plethora of great new books? Of course, the library regularly purchases 30-40 new books every month thanks to generous donations by our annual fundraisers. Every fundraising dollar supports the library in a big way. As of Jan. 1, 2022 Whiting Library is also fine free. We do still have a check-out period for books, and encourage you to bring the books back on time, just without the financial stress.

Tri-Mtn Lions continue to support Londonderry

LONDONDERRY, Vt. – The Londonderry Tri-Mtn Lions have been busy. On Sept. 11, the Lions made and served popcorn at Neighborhood Connections' The Mountain Circus fundraiser at Flood Brook School. Thank you Peggy Mero for the use of your popcorn machine, and thank you Terry Mero for donating the popcorn.

In addition, the Tri-Mtn Lions also manned water table no. 2 at the Maple Leaf Marathon in Manchester on Sept. 10, and they

of Essex Junction won a Solo Bonfire Stofe; Terry Bennette of Putney won two one-day ski passes to Bromley; and a large gift basket of goodies from the Vermont Country Store went to Chris Glabach of Winhall.

Now that the school year has started, the local Lion's Club in Vermont will be showing vision screenings in schools.

To contact Tri-Mtn Lions, call Pam Nichols at 802-384-0033 or Randee Keith at 802-379-8663. Meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. at Neighborhood Connections, Londonderry, Vt.

Applehead Witches fly into the library

S. LONDONDERRY, Vt. – The South Londonderry Free Library is happy to announce that a favorite fall tradition is back. Art teacher Casey Junker Bailey will once again offer her witch-making workshop to goblins of all ages on Saturday, Oct. 22 at 10:30 a.m. Come make applehead witch puppets and other creepy crafts. The program is free of charge and appropriate for all ages. All materials are provided. You may contact the library at 802-824-5125 for more information.

Weathersfield Center Meeting House bicentennial

PERKINSVILLE, Vt. – The Weathersfield Historical Society will celebrate the 200th anniversary of the dedication of the brick Weathersfield Center Meeting House at its annual fall program on Saturday, Oct. 22 at 1 p.m. The program will alternate between history of the church, the Civil War monument and grove, and the old Weathersfield Center village that once surrounded them with music by the Poor Cousins, followed by cider and donuts and time to walk around the historic Memorial Grove. Meet at 2579 Weathersfield Center Rd., Perkinsville, Vt. Parking is located across the road, and handicap parking is by the church. This is a free event, although, donations are appreciated.

The 2022 MAHHC Charity Art Auction Event

READING, Vt. – The 2022 Mt. Ascutney Hospital and Health Center (MAHHC) Art Auction Event, featuring work from The Deborah K. Ellis Fine Art Collection, will take place on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the Reading Town Hall in Reading, Vt. No RSVP is required.

The preview will take place from 2-5 p.m. and the auction at 5 p.m. This collection was given to MAHHC by Sarwar Kashmeri, surviving spouse of Deborah K. Ellis, in gratitude for the care she received at MAHHC. Proceeds from the event will help support health and wellness programs and clinical services at MAHHC. This will be a live auction, featuring Bill Smith as auctioneer.

Weston Library adopts Strategic Plan

WESTON, Vt. – The Board of Trustees of the Wilder Memorial Library in Weston, Vt. is pleased to announce that in July, after nearly a year of hard work, they've adopted their first-ever Strategic Plan to guide the exciting future of the library. They have immediately begun working on implementing the plan, the focus of work for the next five years.

The Plan includes revised mission and vision statements and goals for programs, technology, finances, and staffing. Most exciting to the board and community is the ambitious goal to expand the library building using the recently purchased Riverside property next door to provide space for community gatherings and programs as well as expanded library services.

The process for developing the plan included a grant from the Vermont Community Foundation to engage consultant Kerri MacLaury, a former librarian in Weston. The Strategic Planning Committee sponsored three community meetings in person and via Zoom, attended by 60 people, and also sent out a survey, drawing 174 responses. That unprecedented community input helped the committee develop a thoughtful and coherent plan.

Library Director Jessica Clapp said, "The plan has a clear focus on the library as a driving force in the Weston community. Thanks to the robust participation by the community, we have clear direction in providing exceptional service and programs, expanding and bringing our unique and beautiful library up to date, and sustaining our vital role in the community."

The full text of the Strategic Plan is available on the library website at www.wildermemoriallibrary.org. Hard copies are available at Wilder Memorial Library.

Community Lunch Program takes off

LUDLOW, Vt. – Looking for a really good, nourishing, home cooked meal, to socialize with community folks, friends, and neighbors, and hear some relaxing live, local music? It all happens at the Ludlow

Community Center on Thursday, Nov. 3 at 12 p.m. The November Community Lunch features a traditional Thanksgiving theme with fresh, roasted turkey, stuffing, and all the sides.

Begun on the first Thursday in October of this year, the community meal concept was introduced by Krey Kellington, Black River Good Neighbor Services' Executive Director and Vicki Mastroianni, caterer and well-known senior advocate. Both women share similar food values together with the desire to reach and build community around food by offering a home cooked meal and an opportunity to socialize and maintain connections, all at no charge. And, all within a warm and welcoming environment.

The October community lunch was truly an atmosphere of volunteerism at its finest. RSVP volunteers, Black River Good Neighbor board members, Mountside residents, Senior Solutions staff, and more, all came together in preparing, setting up, baking, greeting, serving, and cleaning-up the event. A cafeteria filled with laughter, stories, music, and great food.

Volunteers are welcomed and encouraged to participate in the community lunch program in many capacities as well as financial support. For information on how you can help, contact Krey Kellington at 802-228-3663.

Mourning cover history

An interesting category of ephemera to collect is mourning covers. What we call envelopes today, are known as "covers" in the trade. The mourning cover with this article is 1923.

In the old days, communication as we know it today didn't exist. I think a little background is needed.

In the early 1970s, I met a few old Vermonters living out in the country, who still didn't have electricity. By 1923, most people living in our villages and towns had electricity, with many having a phone. However, many people who lived out in the country were yet to have electricity or a phone.

This might be difficult to understand today. I think it's important for us to know how we communicated. It helps us better understand the lives of men and women of this time.

U.S. mail was the way we kept in touch. Try to imagine these times. You go out to your mailbox to retrieve your mail. In your mailbox you find a cover with black borders on the front. You turn it over and the flap edges of the cover are also trimmed in black.

You are stopped in your tracks. You know this black trimmed cover announces someone close to you has died.

This might seem odd to us today. But these mourning covers prepared the recipient for bad news.

I can only speak from my own experience. Most of the covers I have seen date to the last half of the 19th century. The 1923 cover you see here is the latest I recall seeing. Again, this is just my experience.

Warren Harding

Warren Harding was our 29th President. He began his term on March 4, 1921. Returning from a voyage to Alaska, he died of a heart attack in San Francisco, on Aug. 2, 1923. This ushered in Calvin Coolidge as the 30th President.

Harding mourning stamp

I remember being at Chester Junior High School when President Kennedy was assassinated. I was young, and I didn't really understand, but all of a sudden our world was turned upside down. In 1964 the U.S. Mint introduced the Kennedy half-dollar.

Mourning cover showing the notecard and calling card.

Likewise, the United States Post Office introduced a Mourning Stamp for President Harding in 1923. The first printing of these two-cent mourning stamps was 300 million stamps. They were released Sept. 1, 1923, a month after Harding's death.

Selling out quickly, USPD quickly printed other versions. These black mourning stamps, like the 1964 Kennedy half-dollar, were popular with the public.

Estey mourning cover

The mourning cover with this article is postmarked

Brattleboro, Oct. 28, 1923. It is fitting that a mourning cover would have a Harding mourning stamp.

It is addressed to: "Miss Martha Vane, 59 Lancaster Street, Albany, N.Y." Inside is a notecard, also trimmed in black with a handwritten message from Florence Gray Estey. Also included and trimmed in black is a calling card from Mrs. Julius Jacob Estey, Brattleboro, Vt. On the reverse is this handwritten message: "Your kind expression of sympathy is deeply appreciated."

I asked Danny Clemons to check Brattleboro cemeteries for me. He found 37 Esteys buried in Brattleboro. Of course, many of these are of the Estey Organ Company family. Not knowing who died, I asked Danny to see if he could find an Estey who died in 1923. This is what Danny found:

"I found one Estey that died in 1923, Martha Estey. Birth not listed, died September 1923. She was daughter of Joseph and Alice Low Estey. Florence Gray Estey was born Aug. 28, 1848. She died January 1933."

I have no doubt this Martha Estey is the deceased in the mourning card. The notecard does not mention the deceased by name.

Looking the cover over closely, I found a blind stamp on the reverse of the cover, under the flap. It reads: "Tiffany & Co. Makers New York."

Tiffany covers would have been expensive to purchase. The Estey family certainly could have afforded them.

I'm sure there are more than a few readers who have a shoebox full of old letters and covers. You are not alone.

After 16 years, I have retired as president of Chester Historical Society. It was a fun ride, but it is time for a new and younger president. Jon Clark is our new president. I have no doubt Jon will find his way. He's a Chester boy.

The 2022 Rockingham Old House Awards announced—

ROCKINGHAM, Vt. – The Rockingham Historic Preservation Commission will host a reception for the town's 2022 Old House Award winners on Sunday, Oct. 16 at 10 a.m. at the Rockingham Meeting House, 11 Meeting House Rd., Rockingham Village. The public is invited to congratulate the winners and celebrate historic preservation efforts underway throughout the town.

"Restored between 1906 and 1907, the meeting house is the birthplace of historic preservation in Rockingham, setting the pace for our region," said John Leppman, Commission Chair. "It is big and bright, and a great place for the community to applaud historic preservation."

Awards are made annually by the Commission to recognize property owners in the town of Rockingham who maintain and restore their historic homes and commercial and industrial buildings. Eligible properties are older homes and businesses that have received exterior restoration and conservation by their owners, typically in the past five years. Brass plaques are awarded the winners, who are encouraged to proudly post them on their entrances to call out their efforts to keep Rockingham historic. This year's winners are:

Jeff Dunbar, owner of 8 Birch Street in Bellows Falls, which has gone through extensive renovation while keeping the historic design consistent, with extensive landscape restoration to appropriately frame a four-square Craftsman style house built circa 1900.

Janelle Beard, current owner of the Edward and Alice Walker House at 39 Atkinson Street in Bellows Falls, a two-and-a-half-story wood frame asymmetrical Queen Anne house built in 1898.

Lucia and Matt Zachowski, current owners of the Weedon Farm at 220 Parker Hill Road in Rockingham Town, once one of the major farms along this byway, a vernacular two-story farmhouse and barn originally built in 1850 and enlarged in 1880.

Vyacheslav Borshchukov, current owner of the Haseltine-Carey Farm at 410 Lower Parker Hill Road in Rockingham Town, one of the most substantial nineteenth-century agricultural enterprises on Parker Hill, built in the Federal Style in 1810.

Thomas and Kirsten M. Koehne, current owners of the Elias Olcott House at 34 Upper Meadow Road in Rockingham Town, built along the colonial Connecticut Turnpike and the best example of the Georgian building style in the area, surviving in comparatively unaltered condition. Built in 1763 in the area that was once referred to as City Dale, it is the oldest standing structure in Rockingham.

Felicite Boisvert, owner of The Stone House at 116 Lower Bartonville Road in Bartonville Hamlet, a one-and-a-half-story, gable-front, stone building, designed in the Federal style, built circa 1850.

Bridgman-Fairbanks House and Bellows Falls Hospital located at 50 Pine Street in Bellows Falls, a two-and-a-half-story wood frame vernacular Italianate building with a colonial revival porch originally built between 1881 and 1883 as a single family dwelling, it was repurposed as Bellows Falls Hospital. Current adaptation is a five-unit multi-family condominium.

Andrew Kottke, owner of 240 Rockingham Street. Built circa 1960 at the outset of Vermont's Interstate Era, it served many years as the Hetty Green Motel and is now extensively refurbished as a multi-family apartment complex preserving the architectural formulation of mid-century modern hospitality design.

Edward Gray, current owner of the Elijah and Mercy Knight House, 9 Meeting House Road in Old Rockingham Village, a two-and-a-half-story wood frame Federal-style house located at the bottom of the hill below the Meeting House. Built in 1806, the house is beautifully framed by a late eighteenth-century garden.

The Old House Award program is made possible in part through the generosity of the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation and the National Park Service. For more information about the event or the Old House Awards, contact clg@rockbf.org.

OLLI program, "Another Election? Already?"

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – Jon Margolis, author and freelance journalist, will present the next OLLI – Osher Lifelong Learning Institute program "Another Election? Already?" on Tuesday, Oct. 18 at 2 p.m. at the Nolin Murray Center next to St. Mary's Church on Pleasant St. in Springfield.

Yes, it does seem as though political campaigns never cease, or at least blend into one another. Some folks are still fighting over 2020 as the 2022 election approaches, with 2024 seeming to loom right around the corner. Can this hodgepodge mean anything, in Vermont or around the country? Let's try to find out.

Margolis has extensive experience covering national issues, having worked on the Chicago Tribune Washington Bureau. He has covered politics on the VTDigger website and has appeared on political panels on Vermont PBS programs. From a journalist's perspective, he will present an overall view of the current political situation and issues and how that may affect the upcoming elections.

Sponsored by the University of Vermont, OLLI is run by local volunteer members and is geared mainly towards seniors who are 50 years of age and over who enjoy learning for the fun of it. Anyone who would be interested in this type of program, regardless of their age, is welcome. The programs are held Tuesday afternoons at 2 p.m. and last about an hour-and-a-half.

Pre-registration is highly recommended. However, if you arrive without having registered, we will not turn you away. We will hand you a form and an addressed envelope to send in payment after the program.

There is a Membership Series Special Fee. Non-members are welcome and encouraged to attend individual programs for a single program fee.

You may view the entire semester programs by going to the website www.learn.uvm.edu/olli/springfield. Registration can be done at this website. You may also register over the phone by calling 802-656-5817 during regular office hours from Monday – Friday, 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.

The next program on Nov. 1 will be "Yankee Spy: New Hampshire's Jonathan Hale in the Civil War," which will be presented by Alan Rumrill, Director of the Cheshire County Historical Society of Keene, N.H.

Dear Editor,

My name is Heather Chase and, as a Democrat, I am a candidate for the Vermont State Legislature from the Windsor-Windham District to represent all of you in Montpelier. I am excited by this opportunity to seek to serve my community and have enjoyed meeting many of you in my campaign throughout the District in the towns of Athens, Chester, Grafton, and Windham.

I want you to know a bit about me and my family and my community involvement.

I am a registered nurse by profession, but I am more importantly the proud parent of four adult children, who have all benefitted from being raised and educated in Vermont. While raising my family, I have managed my small business in Chester that has grown and thrived. Having a strong commitment to community, I serve on the Chester Selectboard, now in my third three-year term. I am a Justice of the Peace and I chair the Chester Board of Civil Authority. Also, I am a member of the Vermont Economic Progress Council, appointed by Governor Phil Scott.

My interests in my community, which, together with others, I will pursue as your state representative, include addressing the reasons for climate change, supporting economic opportunities for our local businesses and working Vermonters, confirming the right of an individual to personal reproductive autonomy, finding a way to increase our housing supply for our workers and young Vermonters, maintaining a public school system with positive community support that provides a good education for all of our kids, and celebrating the diversity of our population. I will debate the issues of our time in a civil and respectful manner and will ensure that, whether we agree or disagree, all will be heard and will be treated fairly, equitably, and inclusively.

Thank you for your support and vote during this election period. You may vote now or anytime, but certainly please vote by Election Day on Nov. 8, 2022.

Sincerely,
Heather Chase

Dear Editor,

Windsor District-5 needs an honorable Representative.

There is only one honorable candidate running for Representative in Windsor District-5, and that is Tesha Buss.

Tesha is a single parent who respects the people in her community. She is a caring person who displays humility, honesty, and compassion. Tesha is a smart businessperson who has achieved all she has through hard work. Tesha is articulate and will be a voice for her constituents in Reading, Plymouth, and Woodstock.

I am voting for Tesha Buss, and I hope you will too.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Cooper

Dear Editor,

I'm writing to express my strong support for Proposition 5, Article 22. This is the text of the article: "That an individual's right to personal reproductive autonomy is central to the liberty and dignity to determine one's own life course and shall not be denied or infringed unless justified by a compelling State interest achieved by the least restrictive means."

Recently, there was a letter referencing Rep. Anne Donohue (R Washington County). The letter writer and Rep. Donohue are spreading misinformation about this Article. In reality, birth of a child late in stages of development, unless the life or health of the pregnant person is endangered, is a compelling State interest. Article 22 would not require or even permit Vermont doctors or hospitals to perform late term abortions against their will because there would be a compelling State interest not to make them. This is true also for forcing doctors and hospitals to perform elective sterilizations on minors or gender-affirming treatment without notifying parents.

A constitutional amendment is needed to protect abortion in Vermont because Vermont has passed laws prohibiting abortion in the past and could again, especially if Republicans pass a national abortion ban.

Passage of Article 22 is needed to place our State's right in our Constitution and establish a cause of action to fight any national abortion ban passed by a Republican Congress.

Anne Donahue and the previous letter writer's misinformation and deliberate twisting of history, law, and ethics is shameful and dangerous. We need Article 22 – I urge you to vote "Yes."

Sincerely,
Susan LeDrew
Springfield, Vt.

Dear Editor,

I have carefully read the words contained in Article 22: The Personal Reproductive Liberty Amendment on the November ballot in Vermont. After thoughtful consideration and reading commentary of those supporting the amendment and those opposing the amendment, I have decided to vote "No" on its passage.

Following are my reasons: Vermont already has unrestricted access to abortion up to the day of delivery. Abortion is an extremely controversial topic, and regardless of anyone's views, this was signed into law in Vermont in 2019. I'm not exactly sure why this amendment is even needed. The amendment does not include the words abortion or women. Which brings me to my next reason for a no vote.

Personal Reproductive Liberty: what exactly does that mean? If you ask five people what this means, eliminating abortion, you will get five different responses. Any question around Constitutional language is decided on by the Courts. I have no doubt that the Vermont Courts will be defining that term. Proponents of the amendment state that Article 22 ensures patients and doctors will make health care decisions, not politicians. The legislation on abortion in Vermont already does that for abortion, so Article 22 is not needed. The Courts defining personal reproductive liberty is not exactly what I consider a politician free environment.

The words, "unless justified by a compelling State interest," is what concerns me the most. What exactly does that mean? The only example I know of in recent times of regulations on reproductive liberty based on a compelling state interest is China's one child policy that was in place from 1980-2015 which limited the great majority of family units to one child with some exceptions such as certain ethnic groups. In 2016 the limit was raised to two, and in 2021, to three. I believe this is yet another example of politicians making decisions about your health care.

I encourage voters to read the words of Article 22 carefully and make an informed decision. Words matter.

Sincerely,
Mary Mor
Windham, Vt.

Dear Editor,

After announcing my candidacy for the Vermont House of Representatives two months ago, my inbox has been inundated with questionnaires from various news outlets and citizens advocacy groups. I feel it is important to publicly discuss the key issues about which I am frequently asked. Bucking today's ubiquitous political trend, I choose transparency so that the voters in my district can make an informed decision this election.

1. Article 22
Vermont has no restrictions or limitations on abortion and has not had any since 1972. The following is codified in Vermont law (Act 47), "The State of Vermont recognizes the fundamental right of every individual who becomes pregnant to choose to carry a pregnancy to term, to give birth to a child, or to have an abortion." The law also affirms access to contraceptives. It is clear that we do not need to amend Vermont's constitution to protect a right that is already inscribed in the state's legal DNA. I oppose Article 22 because it is out of step with mainstream America, deliberately vague, and undemocratic. It would put unlimited, unregulated late-term abortion into our state constitution, which is a position opposed by the vast majority of Vermonters and 90% of Americans (according to a Harvard/Harris poll).

It would remove voters and future legislators from any further discussion about what "personal reproductive autonomy" means. This amounts to an intentional abdication of legislative authority. Does "personal reproductive autonomy" entail human cloning or surrogacy trafficking? These are cultural conversations that we should be having as a society in our state. Article 22 would prevent these important discussions by permanently tying the hands of legislators and voters.

2. School choice
I support school choice. In 1991, upon graduating from Lyndon State College, I worked for six years at the Pine Ridge School in Wiliston. This small private high school served students with learning differences. It catered to the unmet needs of students who had been academically and emotionally underserved in the public school system. At Pine Ridge, the faculty and staff did tremendous, intensive work with the young people in our care, helping them achieve grade level standards in reading, writing, math, and the other disciplines. This first-hand experience taught me the importance of allowing parents to find and place their children in the best-suited and most appropriate environment that meets their unique needs. Taxpayer dollars should follow every child to the best school available to him or her, regardless of whether it is a public or private institution, or a home-schooling arrangement.

3. Addressing Vermont's inflating energy costs
When the Vermont Legislature convenes in January 2023, the new legislature will vote on whether or not to enact the recommendations made by the Vermont Climate Council to raise carbon taxes/fees on home heating fuels (oil, propane, natural gas, and kerosene) and similar new carbon taxes/fees on gasoline and diesel. There is little we can do about the various national and global factors affecting energy prices. However, we can prevent increasing fuel prices for these necessities on Vermonters who are already struggling to make ends meet. Last spring, when fuel prices were skyrocketing, Vermont Democrats voted to raise taxes on home heating fuels (H.715), and voted to override Governor Scott's veto of that heartless bill. A new version of that bill and many like it will be back in 2023. If elected, I will be a solid "No" vote on any proposed taxes/fees that would artificially raise the price of energy on Vermonters.

4. Stance on Vermont's Global Warming Solutions Act

Vermonters of every political persuasion have a long and proud tradition of environmental stewardship. We have been doing our part for decades and the environmental data proves it. Vermont is the cleanest state and our total energy consumption is the lowest of any state in the nation. Vermont forests have removed more carbon dioxide than emissions produced every year since 1990. Unfortunately, there is a political tendency in Vermont to focus on global phenomena rather than resolve local pressing issues. For example, we are experiencing severe workforce depletion, an acute shortage in the rental market while the state has the second highest home vacancy rate in the nation, record high costs of motor vehicle and home heating fuels, more numbers of middle class and fixed income families falling into poverty, staggering rates of drug overdose deaths, and a sharp increase in violent crime. I am running for office to implement tangible change that directly improves the standard of living of my constituents.

I ask for your vote this election season. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Stu Lindberg
Cavendish, Vt.

Dear Editor,

I am writing in support of Rep. Michelle Bos-Lun, a teacher and restorative justice practitioner, who is seeking a second term in the Vermont House of Representatives.

In spring of 2021, Michelle and I gathered a group of concerned neighbors to address issues that arise in the community through creative communication and to offer support, now known as The Humanity Network. Since those first Zoom gatherings, we have co-sponsored with Rockingham and Westminster public libraries, held communication training with Restorative Community Practice of VT (www.rcpvermont.org/), hosted Listen Up! at The Bellows Falls Opera House, and organized The Chalkboard Project – two chalkboards at local businesses in Bellows Falls where community members are invited to answer and ask questions. We organized a well-attended rally for Reproductive Rights and a talent share of community members at the Butterfield Institute in Westminster. The Humanity Network is not a nonprofit organization; we have no board of directors or a budget. We are merely a group of about 50 concerned neighbors. You are welcome to join us; please email jeannette.staley@vfca.edu.

The Humanity Network is a great introduction and illustration of Michelle, because it addresses so many of the reasons that Michelle is a representative for all of us. When I approached her about my concerns in the community, she asked what ideas I had for addressing it and then offered her assistance. She understands the importance of including community members in solutions and the arts as a tool of communication and community engagement. And, she is dedicated to the issues that promote equality within community: healthcare, voting rights, and economic and environmental justice. The Humanity Network encompasses all of these.

Michelle has been my neighbor for nearly 20 years. I have known her as a walker of the woods, a mother, a fierce advocate for the disenfranchised, and a curious reader.

I hope you will join me in supporting Michelle's return to the state legislature by casting a vote for her in the general election this fall, Nov. 8, 2022. Her new district will be Windham-3, which includes all of Westminster, Rockingham, and Brookline

Sincerely,
Jeanette Staley,
Westminster, Vt.

Arthur H. Chickering, 1934-2022

WESTMORELAND, N.H. - Arthur H. "Jim" Chickering, 88, a lifelong resident of Westmoreland, N.H., passed away peacefully on Sunday, Sept. 25, 2022, at Dartmouth Hitchcock Cheshire Medical Center in Keene with his sister Sally by his side.

He was born on Jan. 13, 1934 to the late Alice (Herrick) and Samuel Chickering in Walpole. Jim was educated locally, attending Keene High School and Thompson School of Agriculture.

On Feb. 22, 1958, Arthur married Elizabeth A. "Betsy" Whitehouse. They had a simple service with their family and friends at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Keene. They have been married for the past 64 years.

He owned and operated Chickering Farms Incorporated until his death, a generational family farm dating back to the Revolutionary War.

He was an excellent cattleman and horseman. Jim loved raising dairy cattle, both Holsteins and Jerseys. His diverse love of horses included racehorses, pulling horses, quarter horses, and breeding Morgan horses. He enjoyed going to cattle auctions, horse races at the Hinsdale Raceway, and horse shows. Later in life Jim was passionate about his herd of Angus cows. He loved his life as a farmer and willingly shared his knowledge to help anyone with a sick animal. His advice was sought out by many. He was a good steward of the land.

In recent years, he partnered with the Monadnock Conservancy to preserve close to 400 acres of farmland that will never "grow houses." Jim quietly helped many people better their future. He was a good friend and neighbor and was loved by all. He will be greatly missed.

Mr. Chickering is survived by his wife, Elizabeth "Betsy" Chickering of Walpole, their four children,

WARNING FOR VOTERS
IN THE TOWN OF PLYMOUTH

Shall the Town of Plymouth permit the operation of licensed cannabis retailers pursuant to Title 7 V.S.A. §863 which states:

“Prior to a cannabis retailer or the retail portion of an integrated licensee operating within a municipality, the municipality shall affirmatively permit the operation of such cannabis establishments by majority vote of those present and voting by Australian ballot at an annual or special meeting warned for that purpose. A municipality may place retailers or integrated licensees, or both, on the ballot for approval.”

Voting will take place at the municipal building in the Town of Plymouth on Tuesday November 8, 2022, by Australian ballot.

REVISED WARNING
FOR SPECIAL MEETING
TOWN OF PLYMOUTH VT

There will be a Special Informational meeting for public discussion of the proposed building renovation and Bond issue, Inclusion Statement and Second Amendment sanctuary town designation prior to the November 8th election. The meeting will be held Monday, November 7, at 6:00 PM in the Plymouth Municipal Building.

Following are the Articles for THE NOVEMBER ELECTION:

Article 1
VOTE FOR ONLY ONE
 Shall the Town of Plymouth borrow up to an additional $800,000 thru a Municipal Bond to pay for the full and proposed weatherization/deferred maintenance project to be paid back over a 25-year period?
 Shall the Town of Plymouth proceed with the weatherization/deferred maintenance project and only complete portions of the project with the funds previously authorized by the Voters in the amount of $950,000?

Article 2
VOTE YES OR NO
 Shall the Town of Plymouth adopt the Declaration of Inclusion as signed by Vermont Governor Phil Scott in 2021 to condemn racism and welcome all persons to live freely and express their opinions as stated in the proposed language for a Plymouth Declaration of Inclusion as written below:
 The Town of Plymouth condemns racism and welcomes all persons, regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity or expression, age, or disability, and wants everyone to feel safe and welcome in our community.
 As a town, we formally condemn all discrimination in all of its forms, commit to fair and equal treatment of everyone in our community, and will strive to ensure all of our actions, policies, and operating procedures reflect this commitment.

Article 3
VOTE YES OR NO
 Shall the Town of Plymouth VT declare itself a Second Amendment Sanctuary town?

A separate article to be discussed is as follows:

WARNING FOR VOTERS
IN THE TOWN OF PLYMOUTH

Shall the Town of Plymouth permit the operation of licensed cannabis retailers pursuant to Title 7 V.S.A. §863 which states:

“Prior to a cannabis retailer or the retail portion of an integrated licensee operating within a municipality, the municipality shall affirmatively permit the operation of such cannabis establishments by majority vote of those present and voting by Australian ballot at an annual or special meeting warned for that purpose. A municipality may place retailers or integrated licensees, or both, on the ballot for approval.”

ALSTEAD, N.H. – The Colts and Fillies 4-H Club hosted their annual Fall Horse Show on Sunday, Oct. 2 at the Millot Green in Alstead, N.H. We had a wonderful day filled with great competition, food, and fun. Thank you to everyone that made this day a success including our competitors, their families, our judge Amanda Golembeski, show secretary Rebecca Kennedy, announcer Marylynn Fallon, food booth crew Lee Lowell, Betty Johnson, and family, ring mistress Hana Bundy, gatekeepers Joey Fischer and Kim Bylancik, ring crew Todd and Sandy Rathke, and our clean up crew Colts and Fillies 4-H members and their families.

The club would also like to thank our show sponsors. Their generous donations allow the club to hold a successful show, which is the club's primary fundraiser for educational materials and community service projects. We appreciate the support of the town of Alstead in providing the use of its public riding ring.

Our champion prizes this year were hand-built, wooden grooming totes made from trees downed in the Langdon, N.H. tornado in 2018. The trees were cut into lumber by Mark Collins, and then Colts and Fillies Club members Serena and Daniela cut them into kits to be built. Todd Rathke built the kits and they were stained and ready for use.

The following competitors won prizes in the designated categories:

Championships:

In-Hand – Champion, Kassidy Wyman with Butter My Biscuit; Reserve Champion, Jennie Crawford with Say Cheese.

Versatile Horse – Champion, Daniela Rathke on SHS He's A Dust Bunny; Reserve Champion, Alyssa Smith on SHS Heaven's Dream.

Adult – Champion, Kassidy Wyman on Wallstreet Weedo; Reserve Champion, Jennifer Putzel on Killian.

Beginner WT – Champion, Mckinley Ryskowski on Meadowair Kiss Me Kate; Reserve Champion, Madison Cushman on Meadowair Nancy C.

Junior – Champion, Miranda Bafundi on Killian; Reserve Champion, Clara Grenier on Meadowair Untouchable.

Beginner WTC – Champion, Adella Ashworth on

Meadowair Kiss Me Kate; Reserve Champion, Kaylee Barnum on Chai.

Senior – Champion, Daniela Rathke on SHS He's A Dust Bunny; Reserve Champion, Madison Amsden on Augustus.

Open WT – Champion, Jennie Crawford on Say Cheese; Reserve Champion, Evangeline Armlow on Meadowair Nancy C.

WT Games – Champion, Romy Merz on Another Creation; Reserve Champion, Mackenzie Ferron on Jazzy.

Open Games – Champion, Daniela Rathke on SHS He's A Dust Bunny; Reserve Champion, Madison Amsden on Augustus.

E-Bike Lending Library

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. – Local Motion's Satellite E-Bike Lending Library is now in Springfield, Vt. Borrowers are able to check out an e-bike from the Edgar May Health and Recreation Center for multi-day loans to find out how these bikes can replace car trips and transform their daily transportation needs.

Edgar May Health and Recreation Center Executive Director Christian Craig

stated, "We are extremely excited to partner with Local Motion to bring this opportunity to the greater Springfield region. The E-Bike Lending Library will allow area residents to test ride two different models and see how they can incorporate an e-bike into their daily lives whether for commuting, recreation, or fun."

The fleet includes two standard commuter bikes, both with an electric pedal assist that helps riders get around with less effort and scale hills that previously seemed impossible.

E-bikes are a transportation option that is becoming more familiar and necessary, and the goal of this program is to introduce Vermonters to how they can be incorporated into everyday life and replace car trips. From commuting to work to picking up groceries and carrying kids to school, e-bikes provide an extra boost of power that makes miles feel shorter and cargo feel lighter.

To reserve an e-bike head to www.webreserv.com/springfielde-bikelendinglibraryvt. Contact the Edgar-May with any questions at info@edgarmay.org or 802-885-2568.

Third novice hunters weekend –

MONTPELIER, Vt. – Hunters embarking on their first deer season are encouraged to take advantage of Vermont's third annual novice weekend, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 22 and 23.

To be eligible for this opportunity, new hunters must: be 16 years of age or older; have successfully completed a hunter education course; have purchased their hunting license within one year of the first day of novice weekend; possess a free novice weekend tag; and be accompanied by an unarmed adult, 18 years or older, who holds a Vermont resident hunting license.

Details on each of these requirements can be found on the Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department's novice weekend webpage.

Novice weekend is designed to give teenagers and adults who are new to hunting a chance at the same mentored experience that many younger hunters receive during Vermont's concurrent youth deer hunting weekend. It is also a chance for seasoned hunters to share their knowledge and to pass on safe hunting practices and responsible behavior.

Contact our Hunter Education Program with questions at 802-828-1193 or by email at HunterEducation@vermont.gov.

Saint Luke's Mission presents new play

CHARLESTOWN, N.H. – A new play, “After Damascus: Saint Paul’s Epistle to the Present,” will be premiering for three performances at Saint Luke’s Mission Theatre on the evenings of Oct. 18, 20, and 22, at 176 Main St., Charlestown, N.H.

“After Damascus: Saint Paul’s Epistle to the Present” was written by Brian Marsh, a professional actor and playwright. Saint Paul will be portrayed by David Zucker, a professional actor from Langdon, N.H.

The play presents Saint Paul as he might appear today, an apostle committed to spreading the message of God to communities throughout the world. The playwright envisions how Saint Paul would communicate his message to the people of Vermont and New Hampshire were he to appear among us today. As the play unfolds, Saint Paul describes his own individual journey, his dramatic conversion at Damascus, and as he concludes his visit to Charlestown, Saint Paul presents the members of the community with their own individualized epistle.

Tickets for “After Damascus: Saint Paul’s Epistle to the Present” may be purchased at the Sumner House Restaurant in Charlestown or online by going to www.eventbrite.com and searching for “Saint Luke’s Mission Theatre” and entering “New Hampshire” for the location.

Tickets may also be purchased at the door on the evenings of performance.

For additional information, contact David Moody at 603-852-0977.

Third Southern Vermont Flannel Festival

ROCKINGHAM, Vt. – Celebrate fall the Rockingham way. On Oct. 15, from 11 a.m. – 5 p.m., and Oct. 16, from 11 a.m. – 4 p.m., at Rockingham Hill Farm, the Great Falls Regional Chamber of Commerce will be hosting our 3rd annual Southern Vermont Flannel Festival. Surround yourself with pies, cider, craft beer, pies, cocktails, pumpkins, food and craft vendors, and more pies, even a pie contest and beautiful Vermont foliage as we celebrate community and welcome autumn surrounded by the vistas of the Vermont countryside.

The music line up starts from 12–2 p.m. on Saturday with Low Lily. This string and vocal trio explores the roots and branches of American folk music with traditional influences and modern inspiration. Start with excellently matched vocals, add some world-class playing, sprinkle with raised-off-grid Americana and you get Low Lily. Setting down roots in Brattleboro, Vt., the band has crafted a signature sound which they have shared with enthusiastic audiences throughout North America and the UK, garnering two number one songs on international folk radio and two Independent Music Award wins.

Cold Chocolate follows from 2:30–4:30 p.m. Cold Chocolate is a genre-bending Americana band that fuses folk, funk, and bluegrass to create a unique sound all their own. Featuring Ethan Robbins on guitar, Ariel Bernstein on percussion, and backed by some of the music scene’s finest players, this group from Boston is impressing audiences throughout New England and beyond. Cold Chocolate has quickly gained recognition for their original music and high-energy shows.

On Sunday, The Break Maids will jam from 11:30 a.m. – 1:15 p.m. With their original Rock n’ Roll sound and a twist of Folk Punk, The Break Maids are “Straight off the hill” and over the top. The Break Maids offer glam-stomp music with three-part harmonies that Seven Days calls “ethereal, like a Greek Tragedy.” The Maids are Faith Wood on bass, Ida Mae Specker on percussion, and Emily Burkland on guitar.

The Stockwell Brothers round up the music from 1:45–3:30 p.m. The Stockwell Brothers are Green Mountain Newgrass artists. Their music spans traditional and progressive styles with banjo, alternative rhythms, and three-part harmonies. They cover bluegrass songs, finger picked acoustic guitar ballads, and Americana melodies riding world beat grooves with Celtic, jazzy, even neo-classical instru-

Join us for some of the most creative crafters from all around the area and a delicious pie contest on Saturday. We are still accepting applications for both the pie contest and for craft vendors, but hurry, our spaces are filling up quickly. Find the information on www.gfrcc.org. We’ll have a great raffle with lots of prizes and lots of local food to tempt your taste buds. And, more entertainment in the field. Your senses will all come alive with the crisp autumn air, the sounds of great lyrics and tunes, the aromas of good cooking and a smile on your face that just won’t go away.

Follow the buffalo red-and-black plaid road signs to direct you to 34 Meeting House Road in Rockingham, Vt., for a fun fall festival for all ages. Receive an admission discount if you’re rocking flannel. Kids 12 and under are free. For more information, contact the Great Falls Regional Chamber of Commerce at 17 Depot Street, Bellows Falls, Vt., or email info@gfrcc.org, visit www.gfrcc.org, or call 802-463-4280.

Bluegrasoles to play at Senior Center

LUDLOW, Vt. – On Thursday, Oct. 20 at 4 p.m., the Bluegrasoles will play at the Black River Valley Senior Center at 10 High St., in Ludlow, Vt. At 5 p.m. there will be a community meal of hearty harvest beef stew, bread, and apple crisp.

The Bluegrasoles are made up of Susan and John Balch. All are welcome to this performance. A reservation and donation are required to attend.

New gallery presents altered books exhibit

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. – Artists, artisans, and architects, working in media from all over the country, were invited by Art Around Books, a new gallery in Bellows Falls, Vt., to select a book that has been important to their creative process, and artistically alter the cover and contents. Local artists include Eric Aho, Brian Cohen, Campion Tillbrook, Frances Alford, Abby Jones, Gretchen Abendschein, Gerry Biron, Jo Anne Russo, Sarah Paulson, Michele Burgess, and Bill Kelly. All 43 artists can be viewed at www.artaroundbooks.com.

The exhibition will open on Saturday, Oct. 15, 2022 and extend until Monday, Jan. 2, 2023. An opening reception will take place on Oct. 15 from 3–7 p.m.

The Walpole Players’ “Hansel and Gretel”

WALPOLE, N.H. – The Walpole Players will be presenting the classic Grimms’ fairy tale, “Hansel and Gretel,” on Fridays, Oct. 21 and 28 at 7 p.m., and Saturdays, Oct. 22 and 29 at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m., at the Helen Miller Theater in the Walpole Town Hall.

“Hansel and Gretel,” based on the classic story first published by the Brothers Grimm in 1812, tells the story of a young brother and sister abandoned in the forest, who stumble upon a gingerbread house inhabited by an evil witch. Hansel and Gretel must use their wits to outsmart the Witch and escape being baked in her oven.

Every dramatic moment from this classic tale is brought to life, live on stage, from the night spent in the spooky forest, to the discovery of the candy-coated gingerbread house, to the broomstick flight of the Witch, and to the battle with the Gingerbread Witch. “Hansel and Gretel” is sure to delight children of all ages.

This production, written and directed by Mike Wright, stars Asa Whittaker as Hansel, Lorelai Hashimoto and Harper Rodenhauer sharing the role of Gretel, and Gina Richardson as the evil witch. The cast also includes Denis Fortier as the father, Carolyn Norback and Deb Wick Robarge alternating as the stepmother, Tom Durnford as the Mayor, and Lea Kablik as the ghost of Hansel and Gretel’s mother. Ruth Pratt, Lucy Berger Kimball, Rowan Whittaker, Owen Grant, Trajan Vannini, Niemi Van Larre, and Luna Gendreau round out the cast. Becca Robison and Ruth Pratt are the Assistant Directors and Stage Managers, with costumes by Lisa Bryan.

Tickets are available at Galloway Realty and Mascoma Bank in Walpole, as well as online at www.TheWalpolePlayers.org. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

The Walpole Players’ next production, Truman Capote’s “A Christmas Memory,” will take place in December.

Fall Home Improvement

Annual weatherization campaign encourages Vermonters to Button Up for winter

REGION – With heating fuel prices at their highest level in years and winter just around the corner, Button Up Vermont is getting the word out: The best time to weatherize your home is right now.

The annual Button Up Vermont campaign, supported by a partnership of energy services providers and clean energy champions, works each fall to raise awareness of the need to weatherize, and helps connect Vermonters with tools and resources to save. From tips on air sealing and insulation, to weighing the benefits of upgrades like energy efficient heat pumps, Button Up Vermont works to encourage Vermonters to make their homes more comfortable and affordable in winter.

“Buttoning up your home is one of the best ways to make your family more comfortable this winter, while lowering heating bills in a time of high fuel prices,” said Peter Walke, Managing Director of Efficiency Vermont. “Weatherization investments you make now will help you be more resilient for years to come, as climate change brings more volatile weather, and likely volatile fossil fuel prices as well.”

Signs that you need to button up:

If your home is losing heat, it's likely you've noticed one or more of these common problems:

- Drafts. If cool air leaks in while your heat is on, you can be sure that energy is being wasted.
- Snow melt. Snow melting in some areas of your roof and not others can indicate that your attic is not properly sealed and insulated.

Icicles could mean heat loss. Button Up this winter.

- Icicles. They may look pretty, but icicles often indicate that heat is escaping through your roof.
- Mold. Lack of insulation can cause moisture to rise and get trapped in the attic.

What you can do:

Stopping heat loss increases comfort and saves money. Here's what you can do:

- Attend an event to learn about buttoning up at www.buttonupvermont.org/events.
- Sign up for a free Virtual Home Energy Visit with an Efficiency Vermont expert at www.encyvermont.com/timetap.com/#/. VGS customers with high energy use may also qualify for a complementary energy audit.

- Complete DIY projects to stop drafts, and get $100 back at www.encyvermont.com/rebates/list/diy-weatherization.
- Find a qualified contractor through Efficiency Vermont's Efficiency Excellence Network at www.encyvermont.com/find-contractor-retailer.
- Install an efficient heat pump system to save on fossil fuel, with discounts from your local utility.
- Get started on a comprehensive weatherization project to air seal and insulate your home.

Efficiency Vermont and VGS are offering incentives to cover 75% off project costs – up to $5,000 – to offset the cost of a comprehensive weatherization project. Combined with 0% financing for qualified households, the monthly cost for many households could be as little as $50. DIY incentives are also available to Vermonters who aren't ready to take on a comprehensive project but want to roll up their sleeves and make small improvements to increase comfort this winter.

Income-eligible families may also qualify for free whole-home weatherization service, through the state's Weatherization Assistance Program. Check www.dcf.vermont.gov/benefits/weatherization for details.

“Buttoning up Vermont homes is all about helping neighbors save money while reducing their greenhouse gas emissions,” said Neale Lunderville, CEO and President of VGS. “At VGS, we're celebrating 30 years of helping customers improve the efficiency of their homes. By making energy efficiency as accessible and affordable as possible, we ensure more Vermonters can enjoy the comfort and savings of a weatherized home.”

As the nation's first Energy Efficiency Utility, Efficiency Vermont has helped Vermont avoid over 13.2 million metric tons of greenhouse gas emissions and has received the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's “Energy Star” program Partner of the Year – Sustained Excellence award for the last seven consecutive years. Efficiency Vermont works with partners to help our state transition to more affordable, low carbon energy use through education, incentives, and support for our clean energy workforce.
