TRSU Board approves revised budget

BY LORIEN STRANGE
The Vermont Journal

LUDLOW, Vt. – The Two Rivers Supervisory Union (TRSU) Board has approved the revised school budget of $10,897,278, representing a 13.65% increase from last year's budget. Down from the $11,047,939 that voters rejected after Town Meeting Day, the new budget will be brought separately before the Green Mountain Unified School District (GMUSD) and Ludlow Mount Holly Union Unified School District (LMHUUSD) boards, before a public informational meeting and its return to the ballot later this spring. The spreadsheets for the new proposed fiscal year 2025 budget are available on the homepage of the TRSU website, www.trsu.org.

Superintendent Lauren Fierman reminded the board of the changes they had approved at their last meeting on March 7, including removing salaries for outgoing employees, adding new-hire information, state unemployment rate adjustments, and reducing the contingency rate for the supervisory union's nonbargaining unit employees. Since that meeting, director of technology Lauren Baker was able to shave off some software costs after factoring in federal E-Rate funding, and removing an unused subscription to an accounting software that the office had previously forgotten to cancel. The new budget also incorporates corrections to benefits and adjustments to the GMUSD and LMHUUSD contingency rates for nonbargaining employees. "If you want us to cut further percentage points, we're talking about cutting people," Fierman said of the budget.

Joining remotely, Mount Holly representative Dave Venter asked Fierman

what was driving the $7,094,105 for special education, which represents a 10.79% increase from what the district had budgeted for special education in fiscal year 2024. Fierman explained that in addition to a larger number of students requiring these services this year, the costs of health insurance, transportation, services, and outside special education programs have all increased. The district also has to replace its special education transportation van, contributing to the $35,000 equipment cost.

Fierman and Baker said that, of TRSU's roughly 900 students, 249 – over 25% – have an individualized education plan. According to the National Center for Education Statistics, the national average for students receiving services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) in the 2021-2022 school year was 15%.

Director of student support services Mary Barton said that there are around 20 special education teachers, which does not include TRSU's behavioral interventionists and para-educators. "It is an unfunded mandate," Fierman said of the requirements for supervisory unions to cover these special education costs, later correcting herself: "Partially-funded mandate; I want to be fair." She said the union receives some reimbursement in the form of a block grant, "a chunk of money" that is supposed to help the supervisory union to learn to manage its costs more effectively. Fierman said the funding has also been complicated by changing special needs identification requirements. Special education is not one of the areas considered by the controversial pupil-weighting system that the state legislature passed last year.

Fierman asked the boards to hold their separate votes on the new budget on April 23, or no later than April 30, which she said would provide enough time but adequate urgency for publicity and decision-making.

The board also appointed Adrienne Williams of Baltimore as chair. The full annual board reorganization will happen at the board's next regular meeting on April 4, at 6 p.m., at Ludlow Elementary School and on Zoom.

Preach for all five seasons

BY DANIELLE GOODWIN
The Vermont Journal

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt. – Preach. It is hard to go wrong when you go by a name like Preach. It is not surprising to see another dispensary pop up in the White River Junction, Vt., area. However what is new is the approach.

Some of you may be old enough to remember a show called "Cheers," and its mesmerizing and comforting effect on the customers that came in to occupy a seat at the bar. Although Preach may or may not be old enough to remember that show, the way in which he is conducting his business is in much the same way. Your name may not be "Norm," but Preach will remember it.

Preach opened his dispensary as a proud Afghanistan veteran. Together with a couple of longtime friends and partners, he decided that his vibe was going to be fun, "out of this world," with murals and merchandise to match. He would try and stay in his lane, in hopes of catching the local attention, while not detracting from other dispensaries in the area.

The dispensary has been open a few months, and when I asked Preach what makes him stand out, he proudly discussed his relationship with the small growers – in fact, he and his partner go around the state to try and seek out new vendors, instead of just hoping that they walk through the door. You can tell that Preach has a prior background in hospitality, because, even as we spoke, he was still in "meet and greet" mode, with a sixth sense when someone looked unsure, or new to the industry, always trying to make them feel comfortable.

When you spend any amount of time with Preach, you are sure to see his infectious smile; he is just ready to have a good time, make the customer feel at ease, and tell some of his famous stories that keep you coming back. Five Seasons dispensary, aka "Preach's Cheers," is open seven days a week, with hours from 9 a.m. – 9 p.m. Monday-Saturday, and Sunday hours from 10 a.m. – 6 p.m. Preach is committed to helping those that are coming from all walks of life with various discounts, however, most notable is a discount for customers coming from the retail industry. Are you a cook at a restaurant? Preach has a discount for you at 52 Bridge Street in White River Junction, Vt. Just look for the bright yellow building, and on 4/20, look for all of the fun on site, by checking out his Facebook or www.fiveseasonsdispensary.com.

Ludlow holds annual organizational meeting

BY NICK GIBERTI
The Vermont Journal

LUDLOW, Vt. – The Ludlow Selectboard met on Monday, April 1, for their first meeting since Town Meeting Day.

The board nominated Brett Sanderson to continue in his role as chair, and Justin Hyjek to continue as vice chair. This was the first meeting for newly-elected selectboard member Noah Schmidt, who was also appointed to serve as selectboard clerk.

Selectboard meetings will continue to be held on the first Monday of each month, at 6 p.m., with the third Monday held as an alternate date if the board needs to reschedule or hold an additional meeting. The Vermont Journal and Rutland Herald will also continue to serve as the board's papers of record.

The board then appointed interested parties to non-elected and vacant elected positions, a full list of which can be found on the town website, www.ludlow.vt.us.

The board also set a meeting date of Wednesday, April 17, at 6 p.m., to discuss ARPA funds, which are set to expire at the end of 2024 if not allocated. This will be a public meeting, open to Ludlow residents to voice opinions on how the town should use the money allotted to it by the Covid-era ARPA bill.

Town manager Brendan McNamara also discussed with the board a proposal to use the now-vacant Timber Inn Motel property for fire department training. The Timber Inn has recently completed a long running effort to secure a FEMA buyout, and as a result the property now belongs to the town, and the building on it must be demolished within 90 days.

Prior to demolishing the building, however, McNamara suggested that the Ludlow Fire Department could use the building to practice techniques, such as forcible entry, which are otherwise difficult to train in prior to encountering them in life-or-death situations. The board was supportive of this effort, and gave McNamara their affirmative consensus to utilize the building for fire department training.

Two bids were approved for town expenses: one for an F-660 Evo truck for the Ludlow Highway Department, with sanding and plowing capabilities, for a total of $173,837, from Claremont Ford. This was the only bid the town received, of five requests sent out. The other bid was for paving of the Okemo Access Road from the trestle up, funded in part by a Class 2 Roadway grant, leaving the town with 20% of the total cost. A bid from Fuller Sand in the amount of $264,070 was approved. While the town had previously been awarded the Class 2 grant, the village had not, meaning only the area from the trestle up can currently be slated for paving. However, McNamara was optimistic that the village could acquire a Class 2 grant this year, enabling the entire Okemo Access Road to be paved at once.

Finally, McNamara told the board that Ludlow had posted an opening for the position of full-time fire chief, and a committee had been put together to interview potential candidates. He also acknowledged that several areas of the town would need continued cleanup from last year's floods in the coming months, among them the dog park and the former Little League field.

The board's next meeting will be held on Monday, May 6, at 6 p.m., in the Heald Auditorium at Ludlow Town Hall.

Flag retirement ceremony

BROWNSVILLE, Vt. – Flag retirement ceremonies hold a profound significance in American culture. They are not just a procedure for disposing of a worn-out flag; they are a respectful tribute to an emblem that symbolizes the nation's values, history, and sacrifices. A flag retirement ceremony is conducted to ensure that Old Glory, as the American flag is affectionately known, is honored in its final moments.

On March 20, at 7:50 a.m., Brownsville Trail Life Troop 0316 demonstrated for Albert Bridge School students the proper and respectful way to retire Old Glory.

Trail Life Troop 0316 is sponsored by the Brownsville Community Church.

Chester-Andover Family Center receives EpicPromise Grant

CHESTER, Vt. – The Chester-Andover Family Center (CAFC), thanks in part to a $5,000 EpicPromise Grant, is pleased to announce the opening of our expanded thrift shop space and new thrift shop hours. We are also excited to welcome thrift shop manager Mike Antonowicz.

Mike brings small business management experience to our thrift shop. His most recent venture, prior to retiring and moving to Chester, Vt., was turning a vacant building in Providence, R.I., into a thriving business with 55 vendors and nearly 100 consigners. Mike loved his work and is excited to bring his small business skills to our CAFC Thrift Shop. His interest in our community aligns with the goals and mission of the Family Center, making him a perfect fit for our organization.

Our thrift shop expansion project is now complete, and we are excited to welcome the public to stop by the first weekend in April to see our new storage space. The entrance, on the left side of our building, is where all are invited to drop off donations and step inside for a tour. As promised, we have retired the “no donations today” sign.

Our new space accomplishes many important goals. In addition to the need for structural repairs to our building, the CAFC board recognized that, to meet the increasing demand for food and financial assistance, our thrift shop needed to generate more income. We already have a thriving thrift shop, and knew that longer open hours with more available merchandise for sale would lead to increased revenue. We now have a safe space for volunteers to receive, sort, and store donations. This new area also frees up a large, secure room for shelf-stable, nonperishable provisions for our food shelf, allowing for bulk purchasing.

The CAFC Board of Directors thanks Vail, our loyal donors, and all the volunteers who supported this project. This was truly a community effort.

Beginning the first weekend in April, the thrift shop, located at 908 Vermont Route 103 in Chester, will be open on Thursdays, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m.; Fridays, 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.; and Saturdays, 9 a.m. – 4 p.m.

Art Adventures Summer Camp at Fletcher Farm –

UDLOW, Vt. – Fletcher Farm School for the Arts and Crafts is thrilled to offer two one-week-long “Art Adventures” summer day camps for young artists ages 7-12 this July. The affordable camps are made possible through generous community support.

Local art teachers have volunteered their time to instruct the five-day workshops, running July 15-19 and July 22-26, from 9 a.m. – 3 p.m. daily. An extended day option until 5 p.m. is also available. All art supplies are provided at no cost to students.

Full-time residents of Ludlow, Cavendish, and Proctorsville receive a tuition discount, thanks to a partnership with the Fletcher Farm Foundation. Other students may apply for Young Artist Scholarships covering half the tuition cost.

Funding for scholarships is contributed by the Young Artist Scholarship Fund and the Ballard-Hobart American Legion Post 36 in Ludlow. This allows a session to be discounted for many need-based students. “We’re so grateful to the art instructors donating their expertise, and the American Legion’s financial support,” said interim executive director Susan

Damone Balch. “Their generosity ensures this enriching experience is accessible to all young artists in our community.”

Registration is first-come, first-served until all spots are filled. Parents can download an application online at www.fletcherfarm.org/art-adventures-2024. We would like to give thanks to our community sponsorships, as without them, the low tuition cost would not be possible.

“Art education sparks creativity, confidence, and skills that serve kids for life,” said Balch. “We’re delighted to make this opportunity accessible to as many local children as possible.”

LRC offers free books through Imagination Library

UDLOW, Vt. – Since 2012, the Ludlow Rotary Club (LRC) has made the Dolly Parton Imagination Library program a reality in Mount Holly, Ludlow, Plymouth, and Cavendish. With the help of local educators, a large proportion of children resident in our area are now registered to receive these books. At the Ludlow Rotary, we have a passion to make sure our kids have every opportunity to succeed.

Dolly Parton’s Imagination Library is a book-gifting program that mails free, high-quality books to children from birth until they begin school, no matter their family’s income. Dolly was inspired to start this program by her father’s inability to read and write.

The unique Dolly Parton Imagination Library program mails a new, age-appropriate book to the homes of children every month. Dolly’s Imagination Library is designed to inspire the love of reading in children, by spending time with family and friends sharing these wonderful books together. Dolly understands that reading is the key to a strong education, and that a child’s imagination is the center of his or her dreams and creativity. By combining the two, this program inspires children to dream more, learn more, care more, and be more.

An easy way to register your preschool child or children for this program is to visit the children’s section of Ludlow’s Fletcher Memorial Library, where there is a display of Imagination Library books and lots of registration cards. Registration cards can also be obtained from the Ludlow Rotary Club, P.O. Box 216, Ludlow, VT 05149. The privacy of the children is strictly honored.

The signature book of the Imagination Library, “The Little Engine That Could,” is recognized by most parents. The books are addressed and mailed directly to the children, much to their delight. The mailings start about six weeks after the date of registration.

Researchers have concluded that children that participate in this type of program get a real boost in their performance – doing much better in kindergarten and throughout their academic career. We think this investment in our children is more than worth the cost.

As participation in the Imagination Library increases, the Ludlow Rotary welcomes outside financial assistance in this important work from those that are not immediate members of the families that benefit. The books each child receives cost about $25 per year. You can contribute to the Ludlow Area Rotary Charitable Fund Inc., a 501(c)(3) organization, indicating “Imagination Library” in the memo section of your check, and mailing it to the Ludlow Rotary address shown above. So far, the most frequent contributors are grandparents whose grandchildren live out of area.

CCCA Walk and Talk Series, martens

CAVENDISH, Vt. – The next presentation in the Cavendish Community and Conservation Association's (CCCA) Walk and Talk Series will take place on Tuesday, April 16, at 6 p.m., at the Cavendish Fletcher Community Library, 573 Main Street in Proctorsville. Brehan Furfey, a wildlife biologist and leader of the furbearer project at the Vermont Department of Fish and Wildlife, will speak about an animal that lives in our state, is seen only rarely, and that most of us know little about: the marten. Martens are slender and agile, weasel-like mammals, with bushy tails and large paws featuring partially retractable claws. They inhabit coniferous and northern deciduous forests across the northern hemisphere. Their fur varies from yellowish to dark brown, depending on the species, and was valued by animal trappers for the fur trade. Furfey will give a synopsis of the biology and history of martens in Vermont, before diving deeper into their conservation success story. The talk will also focus on measures that biologists are taking now, as well as their plans for the future. Come learn more about this beautiful animal. Refreshments will be served. For more information, please contact Robin Timko at 802-259-2327.

Our Place receives Foodbank grants

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. – Our Place Drop-in Center has received two grants of $3,500 each from the Vermont Foodbank, to increase its capacity to provide food for those experiencing food insecurity. The Vermonters Feeding Vermonters grant will be used to buy fresh local produce, prepared foods, yogurt, and cheese for the food shelf and for the senior citizen monthly food distributions. Currently, food packages are delivered to 30 homebound seniors each month. A second grant will be used to purchase a glass-front refrigerator to display fresh produce in the food pantry, making the contents more visible and encouraging more choice of fresh produce by those using the pantry. "We are trying to increase the availability and use of fresh produce by our community," said Our Place director David Billings. "Local produce not only supports our local economy, but it also provides a sense of place and pride in one's community by sharing the bounty that comes from it." In season, Our Place secures fresh produce from Black River Produce, Harlow Farm, Pete's Stand, and the overabundance of local gardeners. Our Place is a community food center located at 4 Island Street, that provides 100 breakfast and lunch meals on weekdays, monthly food pantry visits for 100 families, and a monthly delivery to 30 homebound seniors. It serves families in Rockingham and the surrounding area, and in Walpole and North Walpole, N.H. PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to Executive Orders 11998 (Floodplain) and Federal Emergency Management Agency's (FEMA) implementing regulations at Title 44 of the Code of Federal Regulations Part 9, FEMA hereby provides final notice of its decision to provide Hazard Mitigation Grant Program (HMGP) funding for an action located within a floodplain.

The action is located off Route 103 and would provide a permanent standby power source for the Jeffrey Well site. Jeffrey Well is critical infrastructure, as it is the only source of potable water supply available for the town.

Work would involve the replacement of the existing 1500 linear feet of piping, 13 hydrants, and the motor control center for the well pump at the Jeffrey Well House. As a permanent solution, a 135-kilowatt generator with an automatic transfer switch and a 1000-gallon above-ground liquified petroleum gas tank system would be installed on a newly installed concrete pad.

The proposed project site is located within a large open field off Route 103 and is within a mapped special flood hazard area (Zone AE) and adjacent to a mapped floodway. The project must be at this site because it is critical infrastructure, however the generator and its components would be elevated out of the floodplain.

Alternatives considered included the "No Action" alternative and a temporary generator alternative. The selected project is the most practicable and cost-effective option that also meets state standards and greatly reduces impacts from flooding from small and large storm events.

Map requests and comments about this project and potential floodplain impacts should be submitted within 15 days of the date of this publication to:
